It's Our Opinion

Several Citizens . . .

of the township have approached us during the past week to comment favorably on the action of the Zoning Board in recommending the rezoning of a section along Nine Mile Road, Tuck Road and Shiawassee from residential to light industrial.

We believe that the comments are extremely significant in view of the rapid changes taking place throughout the Farmington area. It is a sign that more and more people are coming to the realization that a well-rounded community is essential to the well-being of all our citizens. It also points up the growing need for over-all planning in the township.

The encouragement of small industrial developments in selected areas of the township is vital to the future economy and systematic growth of the community. The individual home-owner can not possibly continue to carry the tax burden necessary for proper schools and other public services. Yet these burdens will become ever greater as the area grows . . . and they will continue to grow whether we have industry or not. At the present time the vast majority of residents in the township are employed in offices and plants outside of the community. Thus our residential development is booming without the tax benefit from the sources of employment.

If we are to bring our economy into balance and at the same time protect present and future property values . . . planning must be done and now. Specific areas should be set aside for small industrial development as early as possible, while there is still land available. Such a plan would eliminate the unpleasant possibility of "spot zoning" and would preserve the attractiveness of the community.

Time is beginning to run out . . . a decision must be made. You, the individual citizens of Farmington Township, must make it!

A Lot Of Words . . .

a lot of letters, a lot of petitions and unfortunately a lot of accidents went into the erection of the new traffic light at the intersection of Nine Mile and Middlebelt Roads.

This is not intended as a criticism of the County Road Commission. We realize the tremendous demands which are made on them daily. Every demand is very real and very urgent, and they must evaluate each on the basis of the limited funds they have available. We sincerely believe that they are doing the best they can with the facilities at their disposal.

It is always difficult to understand why the procedures are such that an accident history must be compiled before needed safety measures are taken at a particular intersection. This is particularly true when the volume of traffic and existing conditions are obviously safety hazards. Our objective should be to eliminate these hazards before people are killed or injured, not afterward. Repeated surveys by safety engineers would catch these danger spots before trouble struck.

The erection of the new light at Nine Mile and Middlebelt should help considerably in reducing the alarming accident history at the intersection. If it saves one life . . . if it prevents one accident, it will be well worthwhile.

The Melodrama . . .

of the Senate committee room goes on with its complicated script, angry accusations and tangling participants, much to the confusion and disgust of the audience.

Since the lights went on and the cameras began to roll at the McCarthy - Army hearings, the plot has moved from here to infinity and the cast has wandered out of sight although not out of sound. As someone put it the other day, "How did this thing start, anyway? I have forgotten." The whole idea seems to have been swallowed up in the confusion of words and distractions.

A lot of charges and counter-charges have been made, plenty of choice remarks have been dropped on the table, considerable bitterness has been generated and a lot of time has been wasted away, but will there be a conclusion, a morale, a lesson? And even more important, will there be any audience around to hear it when and if it finally comes?

Humor craps up in most election campaigns. Funny little incidents make for a laugh when they happen. They provide material for yarns that are told over and over as years pass. Most of the newsmen who cover the Capitol are on for hours with jokes and stories based on anecdotal, unexpected and peculiar happenings.

This year's race, it seems, will be no exception.

The "attempted drowning" of Governor Williams at the Holland Tull Festival is a good example of an incident that will be considered such an anecdote. Both the governor and State Senator George P. Higgins, who hopes to win the Republican nomination and the against him this fall, were part of the Holland celebration. Both were dressed in Dutch costumes to take part in the traditional street washing. Williams carried a broom; Higgins some pails of water.

When photographers showed up to picture the pair, Higgins managed to jump in front of the Governor. Higgins' camera was brought into play. This was considered to be quite an accomplishment, for Williams has a long-earned reputation for "scene-stealing" himself.

The one time Williams succeeded in getting in front of Higgins, the wily little Senator "accidentally" doused him with water under the pretense of flooding the street. Since the costumes included wooden shoes, the Governor enjoyed the unique experience of wading with his shoes dry on the outer side.

Higgins was heard to mutter. It is reported, "For once the Governor did not steal the show."

"Considerably more startling and less funny" to the candidate at least, was the unchaperoned discovery that nominating petitions of State

LOOKING AHEAD
by GEORGE S. BENSON
President - Looking Ahead Club, Detroit

The reported shipment of tons of Communist guns and ammunition to Guatemala failed to dishearten the apathy of the vast majority of Americans because they still do not fully recognize the menace of the Communist conspiracy and its growing world-wide strength. "It can't happen here" is a reaction expressing a state of mind that daily becomes more dangerous. The overthrow of Russia by the Communists 37 years ago was achieved with about the same number of Red conspirators as there are in America today.

This isn't to suggest that we are threatened with a violent revolution. But 30,000 hard-core commando - troop Communists, strategically placed in our vital industries and communication centers, could conceivably wreck the defense of our nation if we were attacked. For instance, by a ground-based force from any part of Central or South America, for example. Now when we clearly understand the facts about Communism, its unchangeable objective of world domination, its cunning and its almost unlimited power to get things done.

Herbert Philbrick, who was for nine years as FBI counterespionage working intimately with leading American Communists, was an overnight guest in my home recently. To illustrate the nature of the Communists' subversive work, he tells the story of a shipment of sardines from the Soviet Union to the FBI. The FBI sought to intercept the shipment. The sardines, in cans, were being thrown overboard by the ship's crew under the cover of darkness. The FBI discovered that the cans floated, and that instead of sardines they contained little 24-page booklets.

The booklets were printed in Spanish. Philbrick has an actual photographic copy of one. The front cover states that the booklet contains the rules for playing the game of football. But when you open the book you find that the first paragraph, still in Spanish, gives specific instructions for sabotaging electric power lines, transformers, central electrical headquarters, conduits, cables, turbines - complete and detailed instructions on techniques of espionage as well as of sabotage.

Under the guise of football rules, the booklets are smuggled to the Communist conspirators in this country in this device. The booklet is in a specific instruction for making bombs. Sizes vary. The big bomb, which the booklet blueprint is powerful enough to stop a tank of a large vehicle. A smaller one; is just large enough to stop a patrol car or a motorcycle policeman. There is a very small bomb, with diagram for painstaking assembly, which is designed to fit inside of a hat-band.

There are no instructions, printed in Spanish: "If you have a citizen whom you wish to eliminate, you simply place one of these little bombs inside the band of his hat while he's at his favorite bar or restaurant. And when he goes to leave the restaurant and puts on his hat, he blows off the top of his head. It's very effective. He doesn't talk any more." This information, together with the technical instructions for sabotaging America's industrial strength, was a part of the training in the deeply underground, elite Communist cell into which Herbert Philbrick worked his way.

"The Communist instructors," Philbrick relates, were experts; they knew their business, believe me, and they went to work on the minds, the hearts, and the souls of the young people in these cells in order to change them from ordinary citizens to dedicated revolutionaries." (Continued on Page 3A)

Looking Back Through The Enterprise Files

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO (June 6, 1929)
Surveying Grand River
State Highway Department surveyors started work Tuesday morning along Grand River Avenue in Farmington, providing welcome evidence to residents that the widening of the highway is at hand. The surveyors were at work less than 24 hours after the State Administration Board passed a resolution approving the widening of this stretch of Grand River. All of the fill will be put in this year with hopes that some of the paving may be done. When completed the pavement will be 30 feet wide from Eight Mile to the Cut-Off and 50 feet wide through the city.

Annual School Meeting
Died to a new law passed by the State Legislature at a recent session, the annual school meeting will be changed from June 10 to July 8 this year. It was disclosed this week by Mrs. Florence E. Secretary of the Farmington Board of Education. The law contains provision that school boards may change the meeting time back to the regular second Monday in June in future years if they so desire. E. J. Lederle, County Commissioner, advocates the change back to the June date.
