When planning menus, seek variety in flavor, advise food specialists at MSC. Always serve at least one dish of outstanding flavor, but use strong flavored food in moderation at the same meal.

Find Milk Solids Easy To Use

More and more homemakers are using dry milk solids these days. Dry milk solids are the least expensive source of complete protein, and they offer other advantages. Food in biscuit, muffin, cake and pudding mixes, they can be a real time-saver. The mixes can be prepared in large amounts and used as needed — offering the same convenience as commercial mixes.

Most people like to drink milk, but for those who don't, dry milk solids can be used in increased amounts in many recipes. This will help provide the calcium, high quality protein and B vitamins needed daily by all individuals.

When shopping, the homemaker should remember that there are two types of dry milk solids, evaporation and non-fat. Evaporation foods specialist at Michigan State College.

There are the regular dry milk solids which have only the water removed and which still contain the butterfat. This type of milk solids must be refrigerated or they will become rancid.

The second type, non-fat dry milk solids, have had both water and fat removed, and so may be stored without refrigeration. They should be stored in an airtight container in a cool place, however. Otherwise, they will take up water and become lumpy, the MSC food specialists explain.

At that time, 12 new graduates received their American Red Cross pin and certificate for completing 35 hours of training and indoctrination at the hospital. Members of the hospital staff were also present at the ceremony. They are now with a group of Farmington ladies. Miss Kathleen Howler, student occupational therapist from Western Michigan College, is becoming acquainted with Mrs. Jean Holmquist of Whittaker Road and Mrs. Lola Desmarieux of Shawnessee, who were two of the hostesses at the graduation of the Gray Ladies. Mrs. Ethel Galt of Longview Road and Mrs. Margaret Teshow of Oakland Avenue. Mrs. Marjorie Leitch, chairman of Northville Gray Lady society, stated that there will be a fall recruitment for the Gray Lady Service at Northville State Hospital. Anyone wanting further information may call her at Northville 1290.

Pastor Halboth, Wife, Honored At Anniversary Ceremonies Recently

Members and friends of Grace Lutheran Church, Grand River at Imperial Highway, gathered June 29 to commemorate the 25th anniversary of the ordination of Pastor Victor F. Halboth and the 25th anniversary of the marriage of Pastor and Mrs. Halboth.

Careful planning over a period of months made the occasion a complete surprise for the pastor. The church was decorated with baskets of flowers from organizations within the church. The Reverend Professor Leonard C. Wuerfoll, M. A., of Concordia Seminary, St. Louis, Mo., was the speaker for the service. The altarists were the Reverend W. J. Giffert, Pastor of Christ the King Lutheran Church of Grand Rapids, and Victor Halboth, Jr., student at Concordia Seminary. The choir sang "Prayer of Thanksgiving" under the direction of Miss Shirley Cunningham.

A reception followed the service in the church basement. The "Wedding March" was played as Pastor and Mrs. Halboth were seated at the head table with their children, Victor, Philip and Bonnie.

Paul Shoemaker was master of ceremonies and Shirley Cunningham and Irena Spitzberger sang solos. Everyone joined in some community singing with appropriate anniversary songs.

Walter Grueter, president of the Church Council, presented the honored couple with gifts from the congregation, as did Lawrence Church Council. Richard Neal for the Square Dance group; and David Palmer for the Young People's Society. The Lutheran Women's Missionary League of the church presented Mrs. Halboth with an orchid. Herbert Harman took a tape recording of the entire program.

The Women of the Ladies Guild prepared and served refreshments for the occasion, which was brought to a close after Pastor and Mrs. Halboth cut the wedding cake.

DAUGHTERS OF ISABELLA MEET AT MARQUETTE

The 1954 convention of the Daughters of Isabella was held in Marquette, Michigan, June 25 to 26, with Father Marquette Circle acting as hostess.

Mrs. Lauretta Ostrank, Regent of Our Lady of Sorrows Circle, was a delegate. Five hundred women from all parts of Michigan attended this convention with 62 delegates.

The Michigan State Circle of the Daughters of Isabella went on record requesting that the State of Michigan make available to all state institutions funds to provide and set aside a room within each institution for the use of non-denominational chapel. At this time there are chaplains in some state institutions, but no place for these chaplains to provide sedition where the inmates may upon their own choice, return to God and ask for help. A wire was sent to Governor Williams informing him of such a request and especially this Marian Year to seek help of the Blessed Virgin, the mother of God.

Bishop Thomas Nea officiated at the Pontifical Regina Mass celebrated for the deceased members of the organization on Saturday morning in St. Peter's Cathedral. At the concluding banquet held in the cathedral's auditorium Bishop Nea spoke at the mass, inspiring them to work for the attainment of "All things that are true and best in commandment," and advising them to keep the Marian Year to seek help of the Blessed Virgin, the mother of God.

Heavy Cream Can Be Frozen, Study Shows

A series of checks at the Food Service Laboratory at Michigan State College have shown that whipped cream can be frozen.

Dr. Pearl Aldrich, in charge of the Food Service Laboratory, explains that sweetened or unsweetened, whipped or unwhipped, left over 10 per cent cream can be frozen and stored for future use as a topping for salads and desserts.

Drainage from frozen whipped cream is very slight and there seems to be no quality deterioration, says Dr. Aldrich. Frozen whipped cream should be completely defrosted, but still cold, for whipping.

You won't want to leave unwhipped cream in the bottle to container which allows for some expansion during freezing.

Miss Rita Piloner left Saturday for Hancock, New Hampshire, where she will serve as a camp counselor for eight weeks at Camp Nashole.

IF CHILD DOESN'T MIND, STRIVE TO DETERMINE CAUSE

Your three year old child simply will not mind. If this is your problem, concentrate on why the child does not mind - instead of merely on the fact.

Approach the problem much as you would the problem of the child that failed to rise, suggest Mrs. Lenah Backus, extension family life specialist at Michigan State College.

What is the cause? That is really what you need to know, begin by asking yourself these questions:

Is the child well and does he get enough sleep? Well-fed children have more energy to cooperate and rested children are more willing to take suggestions.

What tone of voice do you use when you ask your child to do something? Is it a request or is it a command? The latter gentle but positive manner usually gets better response than the command.

When asking your child to do something, do you allow time for the request to "get through" to him? Children are sometimes so engrossed that they need a moment to turn from one activity to another.

Just what do you expect of your child? Are the things you ask within his ability - or does he give up in despair after a few minutes?

Is your three year old refusing to mind in order to gain attention? If you suspect this is the case, why not plan to give him non-demanding attention?

Such questions will help you plan wisely to solve the "simply not mind" problem, says the family life specialist.

Special Baby Care Needed In Summer

Hot days make it necessary for parents to give special attention to the comfort of babies, Dr. Joseph G. Moher, Detroit commissioner of health, reminds parents.

On hot days, try to keep the baby cool. A diaper may be just the right amount of clothing. If the temperature drops sharply, be sure that he does not become chilled. This does not mean that you should not make every effort to keep him cool. In warm weather, the baby should be lightly dressed in a sleeveless shirt and a diaper.

If he is nude uncomfortable by a heat rash which frequently appears on the shoulder and neck, sponge that part of his body with baking soda; one teaspoon baking soda to one cup of water. Dry corn starch may be sprinkled lightly on the skin.

On hot days, the baby should be offered boiled water between feedings providing he is awake. The water should be boiled for five minutes. The bottle and the nipple should be sterilized before the water is poured into it. Be sure the water is cool.

Avoid sunburn by making sure that he is not outdoors too long when the sun is hot. The best time to be in the sun in the summer months is before ten or after three and then for short periods until he becomes accustomed to more sunshine.

If the baby is formula fed, scrupulous care should be taken at all times to see that the formula is kept clean. If field milk is used, it should be pasteurized and refrigerated promptly after it is delivered by the milkman or brought home from the store.

Any food that is used for the baby should be kept clean and free from flies. If a fly does chance to get on the food, the food should be discarded.

Little babies are very susceptible to disease and no one who has a cold or intestinal disease of any sort should take care of the baby. At the first sign of a cold, the baby should be seen by a physician.

The question frequently asked by parents: should Vitamin D preparation be discontinued in the summertime? If your physician has prescribed Vitamin D for the baby, usually he does not want to have it discontinued in the summertime.
