U. M. DOCTOR SEES ULTIMATE VICTORY

IN WAR ON POLIO

"I cannot help but feel the within the foreseeable future, politomyellits will become as rare as small pox and the plague." said pox and the plague." said pox mad the university of the said pox mad the university of the said pox mad the university of the politor o papriator Center.

The claive scientific evaluation of the polio vaccine new under way to the polio vaccine new under way to the polio vaccine new under way to the polio vaccine mote and the polio Evaluation Center will not be available until sometime in 1955. Yet Dr. Dickinson strongly feels that two campaigns in the battle against the disease have been won: Now there is a vaccine, and now parants can be reasonably certain that it is a safe vaccine.

On the matter of safety, Dr. Dickinson said: "It would seem that, properly administered, the Sait vaccine must be far more safe than many medicines casually consumed by title barreful levery day by the American public."

In all some 1½ million separate injections of the vaccine test lave been given. And declared, Dr. Dickinson, "There has not been single report of serious reaction."
