Springer Spaniel Fun Trial Planned

Any Farmington resident owning a Springer spaniel is cordially invited to join in a Fun Trial to be held Saturday, September 12, at Howard Leonard's Huntersfield Kennels, 40545 Fourteen Mile Road, Walled Lake, by the Southern Michigan Springer Spaniel Training Club. Starting time is 9:00 a.m.

This event is planned to give Springer owners an opportunity to work their dogs under field trial conditions. It is open to all ages, and puppies, and is timed to usher in the pre-season training period that faces all hunting dogs. Puppies will be used, with expert guidance and experienced judges. Springer owners are urged to attend whether they enter a dog or not. To those not affiliated with any organization, the club extends a special invitation.

AREA CIVIL DEFENSE GROUP TAKES LOOK AT PHONE SET-UP

Members of the Oakland County Civil Defense Council and city and township directors were recently given a first hand view of the part communications play in civil defense during a tour of the Bell Telephone Building in Pontiac. They were shown the toll dialing and local switch equipment, how local and long distance calls are placed and routed, the cable vault, where both overhead and underground cables, as well as toll lines, feed into the central office, and how calls would be handled in the event of a disaster.

Use of radio and mobile communications as a means of alerting the public, and the bell and lights air raid warning system were also explained to the group. Preceding the tour, John Potvin, field representative of the Michigan Office of Civil Defense, gave a brief talk on the importance of communications in civil defense.

Unlike many other vegetables and fruits, tomatoes don't do well in the freezer. But they are just about the easiest of all products to can in a hot water bath because of their high acid content.

SAPPHIRE, SIGN OF CLEAR THINKING, IS SEPTEMBER STONE

Clear thinking is symbolized by September's birthstone, the sapphire. The most famous September stones, nobles, entitled to wear the sapphire as a good luck emblem. Includes author William Faulkner, tennis star Alice Marble, actress Bette Davis, and actor John Garfield. From the pages of history there is England's Queen Elizabeth I, also born in September.

Imaginative legends from many countries and ages surround the sapphire, the Jewelry Industry Council reports. The Persians believed the earth rested on a giant sapphire, whose color was reflected into the sky to give it a clear blue color. It was the Stone of Stones for ancient Egyptians, who thought it would prevent capture by enemies and win favor with princes.

A gem highly esteemed by many religions, a sapphire is said to have been worn by the Ten Commandments and, according to tradition, Solomon's Seal was a star sapphire.

Most sapphires are found in Burma, Australia, Siam and Ceylon, and steel-blue sapphires have been found in Montana. Either the plain or starred sapphire is traditionally worn by the September born. The star in a sapphire, by the way, is an optical effect, formed by bands of light reflected from within the stone when it is seen in sunlight or a bright light. This star appears when a rough star sapphire is cut into several smaller pieces. If each piece is properly cut cabochon.

Sapphire jewelry for women—rings, pins, earrings, bracelets and necklaces—blends or contrasts beautifully with virtually any color. Sapphires are often seen in combination with diamonds or other colored stones. Especially popular and practical for men are sapphire rings in platinum or gold settings.

FACTS ON AGING PERSONS COMPILED IN U-M RESEARCH

Most of the some 462,000 Michigan 65 years of age and over live in the southern half of the lower peninsula. Forty per cent of them dwell in the counties of Wayne, Kent, Oakland and Genesee. These are among facts gathered by the Division of Statistics, University of Michigan, in compiling information concerning aging persons in Michigan. Population figures from the 1950 U. S. Census were used.

Actually every county in the state showed an increase in persons 65 and older from 1940 to 1950, as might be expected. However, this ranged from just over five per cent in Kalamazoo to 110 per cent in Roscommon.

However, it's the proportion of the population in that age group that is most important.

Proportions are smallest in the industrial counties of Macomb, Oakland, Midland, Wayne, and Genesee and largest in the counties of Leelanau, Van Buren, Keweenaw, Houghton, Antrim and Grand Traverse. Macomb has the lowest proportion with just under five per cent, and Lake the highest with 14 per cent.

The U-M division also found that the proportions of these older persons receiving Old Age Assistance are highest in the counties in the northern parts of Michigan than for counties in the southern part.

This and other information concerning our ever increasing number of elders is highly valuable in helping cities and communities plan to meet the various problems concerning persons 65 and over. A pointed example of this is the established fact that most older persons live in urban rather than rural areas.

PACKED WITH ENERGY

Raisins may be small in size but they are packed with minerals and food energy. It's easy to steam raisins to bring out their best flavor and texture, and at the same time, make them pleasantly plump for pies, fruit cakes and salads. Rinse the raisins and place them in top of a double boiler over hot water, recommends Household magazine. Cover and steam 15 minutes, stirring several times. Cool before using.

MAXIMUM FEDERAL AID FISH AND GAME MONEY AWARDED

Michigan alone of all the states will receive the maximum amount of federal aid permissible this fiscal year—a total of nearly $711,000. The Bureau of Fisheries and Wildlife, U. S. Department of the Interior, and Michigan Game and Fish Commission announced.

Michigan and Texas will each receive $429,840 under the P-R program and Michigan, Minnesota and California will each receive the maximum $251,140 permissible under the D-J program.

All states other than Michigan will receive less than the maximum in one or the other of the two programs.

Last year, Michigan received a maximum of about $773,000 under the two programs.

The P-R and D-J programs are set up as follows:

A federal tax is collected for each piece of hunting or fishing equipment sold in the United States. That money is earmarked for distribution to the states at the end of each fiscal year on a pro-rata basis and must be used for game and fish restoration work.

The state, in accepting the money, agrees to pay one-fourth the cost of any project where the money is used.

Trees, Shrubs Will Be Sold By State

The conservation department has a record 19,500,000 seedling and transplant trees available for public purchase in the annual fall nursery sale now getting under way, foresters report.

The total is more than was available in last year's spring and fall sales combined. However, foresters note that probably only seven or eight million of the trees will be planted this fall, the remainder will hold over until the heavier spring planting.

Two- and three-year old red, white, jack and Scotch pine seedlings, as well as three and four year old red and white pine transplants are available.

The stock is sold to commercial or individual purchasers for reforestation, Christmas tree production, and farm windbreak use. The trees will not be sold for ornamental landscape use or for resale with roots attached.

Price lists, order blanks and complete instructions for purchasing the trees may be obtained by post-card request to the conservation department's forestry division at Lansing 26.

The record number of trees available for sale this fall indicates that effects of the department's stepped-up, long-range reforestation program are beginning to show.

In recent years, the department has expanded its nursery facilities in keeping with Michigan's total forest management picture. The long-range plan includes a goal of sustained yield of timber on both public and private lands.

Sunken Gardens Can Now Be Seen At Cranbrook

Early September visitors to the Gardens of Cranbrook House, Bloomfield Hills, will see a one-time kitchen garden now converted into formal plantings of colorful annuals. Called the sunken gardens, this particular plot of the 40-acre estate is bordered by grass panels and box trees. Roman and Chinese sculpture and further enchantment to this spot which once held parsley hedges and tomato plants.

The gardens are operated by the alumni of Kingswood and Cranbrook Schools. A small fee is charged all visitors as a contribution to a scholarship fund for deserving students. Open through October, visitors may tour the gardens on Saturdays from 2 to 5:30 and Sundays from 2 to 5:30.

FEATURE RACES PLANNED FOR FINAL DAYS AT RACEWAY

Wolverine Raceway moves into the final round of racing at the Livonia oval with this year's program to be concluded September 18.

Exceptionally good racing cards have been prepared for the Labor Day evening, September 6. After that the attention will shift to the five final stake events scheduled for last seven nights of the meeting.

Saturday, September 11, the Governor's Cup will be raced for a $5,000 purse with a field of 16 drivers slated to go for the rich purse.

A new stake feature, the Michigan Harness Horseman's Association Pace, will be raced on Tuesday, September 14, for a $5,000 purse. A total of 20 have been staked for the feature which will be raced in two dashes. Another new stake, The Governor of Commerce three-year-old pace, will be raced for $10,000 on Wednesday, September 15, with the nation's top youngsters scheduled to race in two dashes.

The Directors' two-year-old pace will be raced for a $5,000 purse on Thursday, September 16, with 15 expected to answer the call to the post.

The final stake feature of the meeting will be the $10,000 Wolverine Pace on Friday, September 17. An Open Pace will draw the nation's best, with Direct Rhythms, Toots's Ensign, Irish Hat, Key-stoner, Knox Hanover, Mr. Dean, Warpath and Walter McKillop just a few staked.

No doubt your dessert list includes a fresh peach shortcake, but here is a new slant suggested by home economists at MSC: alternate the peach layers with generous servings of red raspberries and top with whipped cream.
