

Head Coaches Facing Big Tasks

EARL BYE

NICK IANNI

Football is in the air and to all grid coaches this means work, work and more work to whip a team into shape for a season of hard and rugged play. Head coaches Earl Bye, Farmington, and Nick Ianni, Clareville, know this only too well as both prepare for action a week from this Friday. Both coaches have hit hard through graduation last year and have been faced with the job of molding new teams around returning lettermen.

and spiritual happiness enjoyed by any people in the world. These are not abstract generalities; they are relative advantages, that can be cited and proved in specific detail and they make fascinating subject matter for classroom study and discussion.

In recent years I have heard parents and teachers all over America express a desire for a course in American citizenship which would include the foregoing substance. Let me urge parents who are reading this column to contact the school people in their community — NOW! — and work with them. This school year on the development of such a course. There is nothing you could do of greater importance to the future of America.

FLAT ROCK TRACK OFFERS RACING THRILLS APLENTY

Auto racing fans like plenty of thrills, and when the old model stocks run at Flat Rock Speedway, they get just that — in abundance.

In recent weeks at the Flat Rock Track, old models have proven the most popular attraction. Rarely a night goes by when someone doesn't flip two or three times, not to mention cars smashing into each other broadside.

This type of action is not overly prevalent among the more expensive hard-core cars. It is that very reason — expense — that hard-core drivers are more cautious. Owners of cars in the hardtop division sink anywhere from $3,000 to $5,000 into their machines, therefore, employ more experienced drivers whose technical ability and driving skill are less conducive to wrecking.

Old model drivers, however, are for the most part the rookies of the racing game, and in the process of learning, are inclined to be more reckless.

This Friday, Sunday and Tuesday, September 10, 12 and 14, both hardtops and old models will hold forth at the Flat Rock oval, located one mile south of Flat Rock on U. S. 24.

There'll be strictly an old model show Friday, hardtops and old models both on Sunday night, and an open hardtop program Tuesday. The latter show will be for the March of Dimes, with all proceeds going to that noble cause. Time trials start at 7 p.m. each night with first races starting at 8:30 p.m.

Largest mistake in communities is a tendency to put on a strong campaign for one big cost-free facility that benefits a limited number of people.

School systems offer a good starting place for recreational programs, according to Blohm. He pointed out that school buildings stand idle many evenings and much of the summer when they could easily be used. Recreation people in many cities already have excellent arrangements between school administrators or school boards. In this group Blohm listed Muskegon, Kalamazoo and Midland.

"Recreation is a great counterbalance to juvenile delinquency," states Blohm. "But it takes direction and guidance by people willing to make the effort or by a group willing to invest in the future by hiring personnel."

As more and more people have more and more time to devote to their own interests, Blohm believes that the importance of recreation will be felt more strongly. The office he heads is trying hard to anticipate the recreation needs of the state and help individual communities solve these problems before they grow too big.

Planning Trouble For Enemy Backs

Sharpening up in some practice are two Clareville High School gridziders who should spell plenty of trouble for opposing backs this year. Snapped in practice at the Clareville High School last Thursday were the Clareville Trojans. Richard Godette, end, and Bob Gruse, tackle. Both are seniors this year with plenty of football experience behind them.

Fishing Activities On Trout Streams End Saturday, Other Fishing Still Open

Fishing activity on trout lakes and streams ends in Michigan on September 12, but conservation department fisheries workers point out that now is a good time for fishing on other waters.

Spring and fall, say the outdoorsmen, are always busy periods for avid anglers and the months of September, October and November are especially important to bass, pike and walleye fishermen.

"Trout fishermen, however, have to hang up their boots for another year after September 12 — except for those who wish to make for lake or Mackinac trout on non-trout waters in the extended fall season."

In general, trout lakes and streams close to all fishing on September 12, with a few exceptions, but on other waters the non-trout species, in general, may be taken at least through the remaining months of 1954.

Bass season — on non-trout waters and the Great Lakes — does not close until December 31, so there is still plenty of time to plunk plugs at your favorite batch of lily pads.

Pike and walleye fishing will also continue until March 15 on non-trout lakes and there is no closed season on these species on non-trout streams. Large numbers of anglers will enjoy trolling or casting for them through the fall months.

Still Time For Fishing Contest

Local anglers — it's still not too late. You have until Sunday September 12, at 10 p.m. to register your catches of bass, pike and panfish in the Kensington Metropolitan Park Fishing Contest. Twenty-four trophies in four divisions: bass, pike, bluegills — sunfish, and crappies — perch — rock bass are being offered. In each division there are three trophies for adults and three for juniors (age 16 and under).

A big bluegill, weighing 14 ounces, puts Lester Hull, 1433 Russell, Allen Park, in the lead in this division. He was casting a turfish on a tyrod when he got this gill. Second among adults is Edmund Beale, 19149 Andover, with an eight ounce fish, eight and three-quarters inches long, and third is Mrs. Shirley Road, 14250 Rutherford, with an eight ounce fish, eight and one-half inches long. Where weight limit, length is the secondary consideration.

Donald Liptak, 26527 Albany, age 14, leads juniors in the bluegill division with a six and one-half ounce gill, and Mark Steffen, 30550 Hathaway, Livonia, age eight, is second with a four-ounce fish. Young Liptak also leads juniors in the perch-crapie-rock bass division with a five ounce fish. C. R. Browikowski, 8218 Auburn, is tops for adults in this division with a six ounce fish.

John R. Schwartz, 9720 Conley, continues to lead adults for bass with a five pound-nine ounce largemouth, and his five pounder swept Jack Doherty, 1452 24th, has registered a four pound, 12 ounce bass, and Earl Covey, 1610 Mulhane, is on record with a four

So, say fisheries workers, there are still plenty of days of good fishing available for the taking — at a time when the water is generally free of swimmers, motor-boaters and other fish disturbers.

Lighting engineers have made recommendations for the night-lighting of the new bridge at the Straits of Mackinac.

pond, 11 ounce bass. Ted Brosch, Jr., 26063 Pennie, Dearborn, age 15, leads the juniors with a four pound five ounce bass and James Pickett, New Hudson, age 11, is second with a four pound, three ounce bass.

Since opening day of the contest, last June 15, no one has bettered the pike catches of the Tapp family of South Lyon. On that day, 14 year old Carol Tapp put an eight pound, 11 ounce northern, and her mother Mrs. Donald Tapp, got an eight pounder. There is no entry fee for the contest. Catches should be registered at the Boat Rental Dock on Kent Lake. The contest is sponsored by the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority.

Trophies will be awarded at 3 p.m. Sunday, September 19, at the Boat Rental Dock.
