Tickets On Sale For Travel Series

A ticket sales campaign is now going on for the annual Kiwanis World Travel and Adventure Series with sales thus far pleasingly high, according to Roger Walker, chairman in charge of sales.

Walker stated that an intensive coverage will be made of the Farmington area in the two weeks remaining before the first program of the series on Saturday, October 9, at the Farmington High School auditorium on Thomas Street. While the series is expensive to present, costing over $1,000, Walker stated that the calibre and quality of the features enable the community to enjoy fine travel films and lectures at minimum cost.

Net proceeds from the program will be used for worthy community projects, Walker added.

The first of the six monthly programs will feature "Singapore Joe" Fisher with his travelogue on Africa. He is rated an outstanding personality with an outstanding lecture-film. He has been around the world many times and a millionaire twice; his last fortune was confiscated by the Japanese during the last war.

He has appeared at least 14 times in one season at the Detroit Institute of Arts. According to Don DeGroot, WWJ-TV executive and first vice-president of the Farmington Kiwanis Club, the audience will see one of the best travelogues anywhere when they see the work of "Singapore Joe" Fisher.

Tickets may be purchased at Phil Thomas Jewelers, from any Kiwanian, or by calling Farmington 1465 or MAYfair 6-2254.
