New Store Owner Looks Over Stock

Looking over some stock at Mac's 7c to $5.00 Store at 33317 Grand River is the new owner, Stanley Tracy, left in photo. Showing Mr. Tracy some of the Christmas stock recently placed on the shelves is the former owner, Mac Olschansky, right. Mr. and Mrs. Tracy recently purchased the store and assumed operation early in November.

The Esther Circle of Clarenceville Methodist Church will sponsor a sauer kraut and polish sausage supper on November 11 at the church. Serving will start at 7:30 p.m. and continue through 7:30 p.m. Everyone is invited.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Sparrow of Redcliffe Street celebrated their ninth wedding anniversary on November 2.

Mr. Arthur Hocking entered University Hospital at Ann Arbor last week. The cause of his illness has as yet not been determined. Mr. and Mrs. William Group of Midland visited Mr. Hocking at the hospital and also visited with relatives in Farmington.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Hoppe and family of Tulane Street attended a surprise house warming Sunday night in honor of Mr. Hoppe's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Henderson. The Hendersons, now residents of Livonia, formerly lived on Waldron Street. A tasty lunch was served to the 10 members of the family who were present at the house warming. Many lovely gifts were received by the Hendersons for their new home.

A toy party was given at the home of the George Dempseys of Middlebelt on Friday evening.

There were 15 present for the demonstration.

Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Williams of Grand Rapids left Sunday after spending several days at the home of her sister, Mrs. Mabel Parmeter, who lives on Albion Street. On Saturday evening the Williams were honored by a party given by relatives and friends.

Miss Barbara Hoppe of Tulane Street was hostess Friday night to 25 teen agers from Farmington High School. The youngsters had a good time and consumed a large quantity of cakes, hot dogs, potato chips and cookies.

Attending the funeral of their cousin in Windsor, Canada, were Mr. and Mrs. Roy Ferrari of Hamilton Street.

Mrs. Charles Werschin of Waldron Street received a post card from Spain this week. It was a message from her son, Warren, who has been serving in the U. S. Navy for the past sixteen years.

On November 3, Mrs. Augusta Howe of Hancock Street celebrated her birthday. Her guests were her two nieces of Detroit and her two sisters from Farmington.

NOVI NEWS

BY MRS. GEORGE WAITE

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Tamm entertained guests from California on Sunday.

Mrs. Irene Staman, Mrs. Kathryn Hachert and Irene Kie were in attendance Monday at the Rebekah District meeting in Pontiac. If you want to know how to grow cabbages you might ask Mrs. Earl Waid. She pulled a cabbage last week that weighed over 14 pounds after it was trimmed.

Mrs. Hildred Hunt, accompanied by several other ladies, attended a Farm Bureau meeting in Lansing on Wednesday.

The luncheon and bazaar sponsored by the W. S. C. S. at the community building on Wednesday was well attended, as was the pancake supper offered at the I. O. O. F. Hall on Saturday evening by another group.

The Grade Wyatts entertained several guests Saturday evening to honor Mrs. Wyatt on her birthday.

Joe Sandison, a life-time resident of this community, died last Wednesday at a Pontiac hospital at the age of 74. Funeral services were held from the Casterline Funeral Home.

Obituary

Alice P. Gates
Mrs. Alice P. Gates, formerly of 30305 Eight Mile Road, Livonia, died Saturday morning, November 6, at Glenbrook Hospital. Mrs. Gates was born in Oswego, New York, June 16, 1860, the daughter of Mark and Elizabeth Hennem Butwell. She had lived in Livonia for the past fourteen years.

Funeral services were held on Tuesday at 1:00 p.m. from the Thayer Funeral Home with Rev. Richard A. Geiger of the Farmington Presbyterian Church officiating, and burial took place in Woodmere Cemetery, Detroit.

She is survived by four sisters, Mrs. Elizabeth M. Simmons of Lakewood, Ohio, Mrs. Charlotte F. Hopkins of Bear Lake, Michigan; Mrs. Howard A. Taylor of Livonia; and Mrs. Susan A. Kunz of Detroit.

Mac's Store Under New Management

Mac's 7c to $5.00 Store in Farmington was purchased recently from Mac Olschansky by Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Tracy of Detroit and is now being operated by the new owners.

After 15 years of service to the community, Olschansky was forced to give up his variety store business due to ill health. He started in business in Farmington in a building where the bank is now located, and later moved to a building at the site of the present Kroger Store. For the past 13 years his store has been at its present site.

According to new store owner Stanley Tracy, the variety store will retain the same name and carry the same types of merchandise as in the past.

Mr. Tracy is well qualified in the variety store business. He has had five years' experience in wholesale variety merchandising and four years with a variety chain in Detroit. An Army veteran of World War II, Tracy has two children. Presently living in Detroit, the Tracy family are making plans to move to Farmington sometime next year.

of teachers. 3. The major responsibility for alcohol education lies with the classroom teachers. They could be aided by outside organizations, and state consultants.

4. The community, the school and the students should be included in making alcohol education part of the curriculum.

5. Methods used in teaching about alcohol should be appropriate to the philosophy of the teacher and to the grade level of the student.

DRAFT-AGE STUDENTS in college will have a harder time staying in school for graduate work after January 1, 1955.

Col. Arthur A. Holmes, state selective service director, said the new college-deferment standards ordered by President Eisenhower will affect a large number in Michigan.

"It's going to hit a lot of them hard, but we don't know yet exactly how many," he said.

Now a student, to qualify for educational deferment, must be in the upper half of his class or score 70 on a special examination.

After January 1, he will be required to be in the upper one-third of his class or score 75 on the test. Hardest hit will be the big graduate school classes at University of Michigan and Michigan State College.

Keep your eye on the price of lettuce. The U. S. Department of Agriculture says wholesale prices are dropping rapidly and soon should give the consumer lower retail prices.

Police, Conservation Dept. Provide Message Service

Michigan's state police and conservation departments cooperate in providing a message service during hunting seasons so sportsmen can keep emergency contact with their families.

Hunters should tell their families where they play to hunt, how long they intend to stay and other general information. Then they must register at the conservation or police post nearest where they hunt.

Each year, conservation and police officers deliver hundreds of emergency messages to hunting camps.
