Area Ladies Active In Christmas
Projects At Northville Hospital

Numerous groups in the area are providing a full Christmas schedule for the 1300 patients at Northville State Hospital.

The festivities began with decorating the hospital wards and the trees which were donated by the American Red Cross Gray Lady Service. Northville State Hospital Gray Ladies from the Farmington area who have been busy in this project include Mrs. Mary Lou Blander, 27459 Spring Valley, Mrs. Iola Desmarques, 32318 Shawansee, Mrs. Eltha Gain, 23522 Longacre, Mrs. Olive Lathrup, 23407 Longacre, and Mrs. Margaret Tschow, 34516 Oakland.

The Citizens' Auxiliary Committee for Northville State Hospital, an organization of relatives and friends of the patients, has arranged donations of gifts from downtown stores, through the Detroit Retail Merchants' Association. The committee hopes to provide at least two presents for every patient who would not otherwise receive any.

The Farmington - Eight Mile Extension Group, headed by Mrs. Sylvia Platz, 23249 Farmington Road, made their monthly visit on December 14 to the Geriatrics Ward which they adopted last year. The elderly female patients they have been visiting have moved to one of the four new buildings in the Geriatrics Unit which will eventually house over 500 patients. Mrs. Platz's group will continue with the same 25 patients who look forward to their regular visits. This month, the party had a Christmas theme and each patient received an attractive ribbon corsage, shaped like a poinsettia and made by club members.

Mrs. Kay Potter, 32221 Oakland, who is a volunteer assisting Reverend Richard Galar, 32318 Oakland, Northville State Hospital Chaplain, has been busy helping with overall Christmas preparations at the hospital and has also offered her services to help wrap presents donated for patients who have no relatives.

In the Hospital Christmas Greetings, sent to almost a thousand people in the community who have assisted in the hospital program during the past year, Dr. Philip N. Brown, Medical Superintendent, has sent the following message:

"In behalf of the patients and staff, I would like to take this opportunity to extend our best wishes.

"The interest and help from you, the members of the community, have made this past year an important one at Northville State Hospital. Your participation has greatly assisted us in the total program and makes this Christmas a more meaningful one."

Springbrook Assn. Now
Meeting At Town Hall

A belated meeting of the Springbrook Civic Association was held early this month at the Town Hall with an encouraging number in attendance.

It is hoped that still a larger number will attend meetings in the future. With the obtaining of a building in which to meet, women too will be welcomed to take a more active part in the association. Meetings were formerly confined mostly to men.

At the December meeting only one committee was elected. Officials expressed hope that many more would be present at another meeting scheduled for the latter part of January so that more committees can be named.

Those who live in the future must, unless they appear willing to those who live in the past.

Offer Suggestions For New Dessert Tastes

For a delicious pumpkin pie, try folding beaten egg whites into the filling and sprinkling nuts over the top just before serving.

A stick of peppermint, placed inside an apple before baking gives it a delicious flavor. Pie meringue sweetened with molasses is especially tasty.

When making a chocolate pie, try substituting left-over coffee for half of the milk; it will produce a new, rich flavor. Add a small quantity of orange juice to cream cheese for a delicious topping for gingerbread.

Wayne Ault, located with the Coast Guard at Cape May, New Jersey, and Dale Graham, serving with the Air Force in Delaware, are spending the Christmas holidays with their families on Mayfield Avenue.
