Commencement June 14

C'ville Grads To Hear Scholes

Dr. Gene W. Scholes, Clarenceville High School graduate and former administrative assistant and teacher in the district, will deliver the high school commencement address at Clarenceville Thursday, June 14, at 8:30 a.m. in the L. E. Schmidt Auditorium.

Currently assistant to the president and associate professor of education at Morehead State University in Kentucky, Dr. Scholes will speak on "The Age of Opportunity."

The speaker earned a BS from Eastern Michigan University, an MS also from EMU and a PhD from the University of Michigan with a major in general educational administration.

In addition to his Clarenceville positions, Dr. Scholes also coached varsity football and basketball and was assistant director for a Livonia youth summer program.

At Morehead, Dr. Scholes' duties as assistant to the president are involved primarily with providing evaluative data and analyses for institutional surveillance and assisting in reorganization efforts with the administrative structure of the Uni-

Business Manager Edward Salis will report and make a recommendation on an incinerator pollution control problem and report on the status of emergency repairs to the board office.

He will also report on the gasoline shortage and how it may affect the school district.

The board will receive reports from its own attorney,

John Shantz, and from Robert Saxon, attorney for a school of choice, on how the

U.S. Supreme

Court's decision against cross-district school bus for racial balance in Richmond, Va., will affect the similar case in metropolitan

Detroit.

All meetings are in the school board offices at 2830

Eight Mile, Farmington, and are open to the public.

C'ville Band Tries
For Third Trophy

Supt. Director John Szeket and the Clarenceville High School Trojans will be trying for their third trophy in as many appearances as the

July 9-14 National Cherry

Festival in Traverse City.

Led by Drum Major Joel Moody, the Trojans will compete in the Cherryland Band

Classic, the ninth annual high school band competition to be held during the cherry feast.

For the sixth consecutive year, Clarenceville School District will offer summer instructional classes in gymnastics, according to Chuck

Thompson, athletic director.

Classes begin June 18.

Classes are open to any younger six years of age or older and who is interested in gymnastics. Classes will be offered in beginning tumbling, advanced beginning tumbling, intermediate tumbling, trampoline, boys apparatus, and girls apparus. Class divisions will be made on the basis of age and ability.

Classes will begin June 18 and run for six weeks in two-week sessions. A student may enroll in one or more classes in each session as well as one or more of the two-week sessions. Classes will meet Monday through Friday for one hour each day. Registration fee is $ for each two-week session.

Registration days are Saturday, June 9, and Saturday, June 16, from 9 a.m. until noon at Clarenceville High School.

The workshop is being sponsored by the Michigan

Department of Education.
