Reunion Adds Its Joy To 60th Anniversary

By MARGARET MILLER

And she's catching up on 60 years of memories with her sister, Antonia Persichini, who came from Italy for the anniversary festivities.

Marianna and Loreto DiCicco were married on June 13, 1913, in St. Michele Catholic Church in the town of Valleluce, Italy.

They sailed for America just a year later and settled in Detroit, where Mr. DiCicco worked for the Ford Motor Co. for 39 years.

On their 50th anniversary, they repeated their nuptial vows in Precious Blood Catholic Church in Detroit.

A year ago they moved to Farmington to make their home with their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Dominic DiCicco.

In their nearly 60 years in this country, Mr. and Mrs. Loreto DiCicco never have returned to Italy. And Antonia Persichini, who raised her seven children in Valleluce, never had visited here.

So it was a happy reunion when the 83-year-old widow arrived last week to be present for the anniversary celebration, planned June 17 in the DiCicco home at 23363 Elizabeth Way.

"She says she's here for 45 days," said Mrs. Antonietta Pacitto of Farmington, her

Carolyn Smith Is Bride

Carolyn Laura Smith and Philip Judson Gatov exchanged marriage vows in a 'day 11' ceremony in the first United Methodist Church of Farmington.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Smith of Valleyview Circle, Farmington. Mr. and Mrs. Claude A. Nichols of Medina, Ohio, are the bridegroom's parents.

The Rev. John N. Howell officiated, and the bride's parents gave her the wedding veil.

Her long, old-fashioned dress was pink-flowered dotted swiss with a square neckline, empire waist and long-mutton sleeves. Her headpiece was a single gardenia with Stephanotis, and she carried a bouquet of the same flowers.

The bride's only attendant was her sister, Bethany Smith, of Ann Arbor. She wore a green and pink flower print dress and carried white carnations and pink roses.

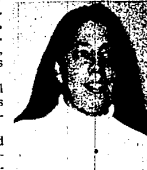

Claude A. Nichols, stepfather of the bridegroom, was best man.

The newlyweds decided to delay their honeymoon and will take a ski trip to Aspen, Colo., early next year. They are living in Livonia.

Both are graduates of the University of Michigan and employed by Michigan Bell Telephone Co.
