

Bank Branch Is Opened

FARMINGTON
A garland-cutting ceremony formally opened the Detroit Bank and Trust's new 14 Mile-Farmington Road branch in West Bloomfield Township.

The garland of geraniums was cut by Carole Sexton, "Miss Detroit Bank and Trust" for 1973.

Officiating at the formal ceremony were C. Boyd Stockmeyer, the bank's president and chief executive officer, and West Bloomfield Township Supervisor John Doherty.

A reception followed for business leaders, township and bank officials and guests.

A GARLAND OF GERANIUMS was cut by Carole Sexton, Miss Detroit Bank and Trust, to formally open the bank's new branch at 14 Mile and Farmington Roads. Assisting were John Doherty, (left) and C. Boyd Stockmeyer, the bank's president and chief executive officer.

Student Up In The Air

FARMINGTON
Ford Mehrman, of Farmington, is one of several apprentice electric linemen enrolled in a unique "high-level" class at Ferris State College.

The class is in pole-climbing, in an outdoor classroom near the college intramural field, class members learn to climb poles, haul equipment up and down, guy and rig the poles, and tear down lines. Indoors, they study mathematics, safety, climbing techniques, and first aid.

At the start of their training, the men climbed 15 feet and tossed a basketball around. Anyone who dropped it had to climb down and retrieve it. The more butterflies anyone was, the more climbing experience he got.

Of the 32 men who started the course, 25 are expected to finish. Upon completion of the course, the men will be eligible to become indentured apprentices as linemen.

The class was introduced because the old training system, where pole-climbing training was given on the job whenever there was time, worked poorly.

Class members live in Ferris dorms, have college ID cards, and participate in the normal student life. If the program is successful, it will continue.

It is sponsored by the American Linebuilders Apprenticeship program, known as ALBAT.

Kidney Award Presented

FARMINGTON
The Farmington Area Jaycee Auxiliary has received the Mary L. Kirkpatrick memorial award presented by the Kidney Foundation of Michigan.

The auxiliary received the award for outstanding service in behalf of kidney disease victims in Michigan. They won the award by distributing 140 posters and 8,400 pamphlets which explained the organ donor program sponsored by the Kidney Foundation.

They also distributed a uniform donor card, legally recognized in all 50 states, which is considered a "pocket will" when countersigned by two witnesses.

FARMINGTON
Mr. and Mrs. Walter Schaefer of Maple Avenue have had a wonderful time entertaining out-of-town relatives and friends. A nephew, Arthur Maxian, and his family from Cincinnati were among the guests.

Mrs. Schweitzer's 85-year-old brother, Stephen Maxian, also visited his sister and brother-in-law for nine days.

They were pleasantly surprised by the arrival of M.L. Schweizer's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Maxian, all of Birmingham, N.Y. They brought a lot of happy memories.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Sills of DeWay Avenue, Redford Township, spent a long weekend at Maumee, Ohio, attending the Airstream Rally of which they are members.

Mrs. Dorothy Phillips of Benstein is home after undergoing major surgery at Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital.

Mrs. Paul (Marie) Yates is our missionary of the year. We should drop her a line. She is in the field in Nigeria. Her overseas service began in February 1954. Her wedding anniversary is June 10.

Also helping out was Betty's mother, Mrs. Eva Lee of 14 Leaf Lane, Southfield. The Walkers are expected home this week end.

and Mrs. Elmer Powers of Powers Road celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary with a family dinner at the Powers Road home of their son, Leroy, and daughter-in-law, Mary. Their daughter, Carol, made the lovely anniversary cake. Another daughter, Dorothy, and a son, Elmer Jr., were present with their families.

Miss Arline B. Freehaut, my niece, also is a missionary with the Hopi Indians in Winslow, Ariz. She will be home this month.

Over the Memorial weekend, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas J. Herrington and children were host and hostess for former Marines celebrating their 25th anniversary together.

Their guests included Steve and Marie Burdway from Atlantic City, N.J.; Steve is a retired first sergeant who served with Doug at Pearl Harbor during 1945 and 1949. He also fought in World War II, Korea and Vietnam.

James Kasl flew in from Chicago. "Jungle Jim," as he is known to his buddies, served with Doug at Pearl Harbor, Jim, Doug and another Marine and three Navy men raised the first flag on the U.S.S. Arizona to dedicate the memorial which is now a tourist attraction at Pearl Harbor.

Jim also served with Doug in Korea in the 1st Provisional Marine Brigade. He was wounded in the Battle of Nankang River.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Carney and daughter drove in from Cleveland, Ohio. Doug and Leslie served together at Pearl Harbor and Korea and were discharged together at Indianhead, Md. They have remained close friends for 25 years and hope to get together again soon.
