

Family Buggy Still Stalled

FARMINGTON The "Family Buggy" restaurant proposed for 12 Mile Road east of Orchard Lake faces still one more chance after being turned down for rezoning by the Farmington Township Planning Commission.

Commissioner David Stader was the only commissioner to support the rezoning, requested by Donald Payne, Detroit.

Payne has proposed converting the old farmhouse on the site into a combination restaurant and gift shop.

He expects to model the restaurant after his Detroit operation which caters to the family trade without a liquor license.

The planners denied the zoning request, saying it would be "spot zoning" since the lots between Payne's and Orchard Lake are residential. The property on the north side of 12 Mile is slated for multiple zoning.

Payne said he expects the zoning request to be heard one more time before the Farmington Hills City Council, which meets July 2 for the first time.

The commissioners all liked the proposal but voted to deny it on the basis it would lead to a strip of commercial zoning all the way to Orchard Lake Road.

Stader, the only planner to support the zoning said, "From a planning standpoint it is a good motion (to deny). I feel that somehow, somehow, we must find some legal way to accomplish something."
