FARMINGTON
Mr. and Mrs. Edwin H. Scates, former Farmington residents, celebrated their 28th wedding anniversary June 18. Their son Robert and his family, of Milford, observed the day with them.

The grandchildren are Bonnie, Bobby and Christopher. Scates moved to Farmington with his folks when he was six years old. Mr. and Mrs. Scates have been members of the First Baptist Church for more than 30 years. (I wish them many more years together.)

The Drop-In Center held its pot luck luncheon on Wednesday, June 13, at the Masonic Temple with 46 members

DID YOU KNOW

At the time of Columbus the Continental United States of America had 2 1/2 trillion feet of commercial standing timber. Today, after 350 years, we still have 2 trillion feet or 75% of the original forest land and this with very little to no reforestation programs. Today the 2 trillion feet of timber is growing on approximately 800,000 sq. miles of the U.S.A. or approximately 22% of our total land area.

League Ends Season

The after-school bowling leagues that were inaugurated in Farmington nine years ago are still going strong.

They started as a means of keeping the children busy during the "two worst" days of the day between 3 p.m. and 5 p.m., when school is dismissed and parents often are not at home.

In organizing the activity, Fred Hamlin, proprietor of Farmington Lanes, furnished the bus transportation to and from school and later delivered the trophies.

The highlight of the season is when each section of the leagues enters its top teams in the "Champion of Champions" tournament. It was won this year by the Botsford Elementary school in Clarenceville. The winning team comprised of Mary Ann Wilkinson, Adrienne Goratan, Sandy Zoldan and Carolyn Case.

The second place winners were the Farmington School on 18 Mile Road. John Houchins, Dave Moffat, Ron Menser and Jeff Hancock comprised the team.
