the qualified electors of Farmington Township will go to the polls to determine whether or not new library facilities are to be provided in the community. We should add that we hope they go to the polls. Township officials are predicting that the vote will be "light" in the Tuesday special election. We hope, as they do, that the prediction will prove wrong. This is a mattle; of vital concern to all electors in the Township, because it involves an important service to the public and because it affects every taxpayer's pockethook.

the public and because it affects every taxpayer's pocketbook.

The Enterprise is in favor of this tax levy for maintenance and operation of the proposed new Farmington Library, but we are not in favor of its being decided by a handful of citizens. Naturally, we can not do too much about this part of it . . . that's up to you. In a democracy, voting is a voluntary matter which is solely the responsibility of the individual. We can urge and we can plead but the final decision is in your hands.

We feel that it would be unfortunate to lose the benefit of the funds now available for the construction of a new library building simply because of a lack of maintenance and operation monies. This is especially true in view of present inadequate library facilities. The major potition of this worthwhile community project can be financed from estates without lany cost to the taxpayers. Few communities have an opportunity to secure a modern library on such a low tax levy of 3/10 of a mill on the assessed valuation as equalized. Regardless of your opinions, we sincerely hope that you will left out and only a fact the security of the decident of the stay will left out and vote next Tuesday. The decident

Regardless of your opinions, we sinterely hope that you will get out and vote next Tuesday. The decision is yours to make . . . so make it where it coints, in the voting booth on election day!

on the anticipated starting date of the proposed Farmington Sewer Interceptor is mighty encouraging. It appears now as though the project may get under way late this spring or early summer! Of course this date is only tentative, but at least it appears feasible if anything moves along according to plan. The construction of this Interceptor will mark a miletsone in the history of our community. It will not only facilitate the development of the area, but will contribute greatly to the health and safety of the will contribute greaty to the nearth at a street people.

The existence of the Interceptor will not immediately put an end to all of our sanitation problems, but it will provide the means by which we can begin to eliminate some of the present unbanitary conditions. It also will provide a physical example of what can be done when communities and people work together for a common objective.

cast doubt on our history books, we can contradict the accomplishments of our individual leaders if we wish, but we can't deny the progress that has been made or the greatness of our nation.

Too often we look upon these virtues as just plain luck. We think of them as something that happened long ago, completely removed from our present way of life. Actually, nothing could be furtiler from the truth. The pioneer spirit that made this nation great must never die. The words and deeds of Americans like George Washington and Abraham Lincoln, whose memory we honor this month, must continue to serve, as guide-posts in our never-ending search for something better. But let us not be fooled. Success doesn't just happen. It takes courage, determination and a whale of a lot of sacrifice. It means standing on our own two feet and Istaking our future on our own ability and willingness to serve.

That's the way it was in the days of George Washington and Abraham Lincoln . . and that's the way it is today
