Little Terry Mueller of Elm Grove was in the hospital last week for another operation on a finger which he almost cut off with an ax last year. He went to the hospital on Saturday where the stitches were removed and his hand was placed in a cast until it heals.

Mickey and Gale Parks of Canfield Street are confined at home with the measles.

Kathy Smith of Sans Souci, after recovering from the flu recently, came down with the measles. She is now recovering.

The Peterson family of Sans Souci held a family dinner on February 13 to celebrate Valentine's Day and Lincoln's birthday.

The neighborhood bridge club played cards at the home of Lola Snyder last week. First prize was won by Ann Arohambau and second was taken by Helen Matz. Dorothy O'Camb walked off with the booby prize.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Hawkins and family of Shawassaw road are attending motorcycle racing at Wallend Lake each Sunday. Main attraction for them is their son, Jay, who drives one of the cycles. He was awarded a trophy last week when he placed second in the races.

Franklin Church Starts Ladies' Lenten Study

The Fourth Annual Lenten Study Series for ladies of the Franklin area started Tuesday, February 21. Sponsored by the Mission Commission of the First Community Church, the studies have become a highlight of Lent for the increasingly large group of women who attend.

This year's study is on "The American Indian." Mrs. G. G. Wright was the first leader in the six-Tuesday activity. Her successors will be Mrs. Ralph Marson, Mrs. John Lackner, Mrs. Ralph Woodburn, Mrs. Volney Bohls, and Mrs. Bert Johnston.

Mrs. Vernon Fisher was hostess at the initial meeting. Following Tuesdays will find the gatherings at the homes of Mrs. Donald Tracy, Mrs. Lenwood Roberts, Mrs. Norman Kreider, and Mrs. James Washburne. Mrs. Oliver Garwood, commission chairman, will open her home for the final period.

Following the pattern developed in previous years, the ladies start the day with coffee at 9:00 a.m. and follow the leader's presentation with a discussion period, adjourning at 10:30 a.m. All ladies who desire to attend are invited and reservations are not required.

Mrs. Garwood's commission for the second year is also sponsoring a weekday Lenten series for children of Church School ages each Wednesday after school at the church. Offering craft and study activities on the lives of American Indian children, first through third grades will be led by Mrs. Edward Green. Mrs. John Holmes is teaching grades four through six. Last year's enthusiastic response to this phase of the Lenten program assures full classes for six weeks.

At present rates of postage the Post Office Department is losing $1,000 a minute, according to postal officials. They urge approval of the newly recommended rates.

KINGSWOOD SCHOOL AT CRANBROOK PLANS ANNUAL OPERETTA FOR FEBRUARY 24, 25

Students of Kingswood and Cranbrook Schools are filling the air around Bloomfield Hills with lusty sea chantees as they prepare for their annual operetta, which this year will be given Friday and Saturday nights, February 24 and 25.

Contemporary American composer Alec Wilder's "The Lowland Sea" is the chosen production, replacing the usual Gilbert and Sullivan musical customarily given each spring by the two schools.

The operetta circles around the life and songs of the old sailing days off Cape Cod. Its large cast of boys and girls will portray 19th century sailors and the women who wait for these men to return from the sea.

This particular Wilder operetta was written especially for school and college productions. Lyrics in the auditorium of Kingswood School Cranbrook.

Tickets for both performances may be secured through the school.
