Goodwill Pick-Up Set For April 2

The next regularly scheduled visit of the Goodwill trucks in the Farmington and Franklin Village areas is on Monday, April 2. Anyone desiring to contribute discarded materials to help the handicapped help themselves may do so by calling Miss Lora Ault at GR. 4-4284 before the pick-up date.

Goodwill trucks stop only on request.

With the official arrival of spring, the 400 physically handicapped employees of Goodwill Industries are looking forward to a busy season. The winter months are slow months in the Goodwill workshops. Collections fall below normal and employment opportunities are at a minimum.

Longer days provide an incentive to the housewife to start spring cleaning and that's when the rush starts at Goodwill. More than half of all the discarded materials collected by the Goodwill trucks are picked up during April, May and June.

Miss Lora Ault, local Goodwill telephone representative, suggests that housewives start spring cleaning early this year to beat the rush. Clothing, shoes, toys, small appliances and most types of furniture are the articles needed to replenish the depleted stock piles at Goodwill Industries.
