NFIP Chapter Holds Annual Meeting May 24

Sixty-five members of the Oakland County Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis met last Thursday, May 24, to elect an executive committee and hear the annual report of the chapter.

Named among the executive committee members was Mrs. M. Stevens of Farmington.

Elected on the Chapter's advisory board were Mrs. Joseph De. Friend and Mrs. Howard Legg of Farmington.

Mrs. Gladys Thomas and Mrs. Marion Gilmore were also present representing the Farmington area. Named as chapter members for the coming year from Farmington were Mrs. Joseph DeVriendt, Edward Hahler, Mrs. Howard Legg, Mrs. James Little, and Mrs. John Yull, along with Mrs. Stevens.

Chapter members from Clarenceville were Mrs. Vernon F. Hawley and Mrs. Nelson Vanderburgh.

Novi Chapter members are Mrs. Leslie Clark and Mrs. Charles Trickey.

Main speaker for the dinner meeting was Dr. David L. Dickinson, medical director of the Respirator Center at the University Hospital in Ann Arbor.

Dr. Dickinson's talk, which was illustrated by colored slides taken at the respirator center, informed the audience as to the type of rehabilitation treatment and care given to severely involved polio patients with breathing difficulties.

"The aim of the respirator center," Dr. Dickinson explained, "is to help the patient become as functional as possible and enable him to return to his home environment and live as normal and useful a life as possible."

Dr. Dickinson also pointed out that the very complicated and custom made appliances with which the polio patients are fitted and which are the result of study of the patient's needs.

He estimated that at the present time there are 3,000 old polio victims with respiratory difficulties who are in need of the detailed rehabilitation which is available at the thirteen March of Dimes supported respirator centers in the United States.

Presiding at the meeting was Carl W. Donelson of Pontiac, chapter chairman. Annual reports were submitted by Roy A. Dorris, Pontiac, chapter treasurer; and Mrs. Ruth Parshall, executive secretary.

Wins Scholarship For Paint Course

Darwin Larson of Livonia, a science teacher at the Clarenceville High School, was named recently as recipient of the Michigan High School Teachers' Scholarship award presented annually by the Detroit Paint and Varnish Production Club.

A recipient of the scholarship, Larson will be awarded an all-expense trip to Fargo, North Dakota, where he will receive a full week of intense training in the technology and manufacture of protective coatings.

The course, especially designed by Dr. Walter Bosch, nationally known educator in the field of protective coatings, is designed to familiarize those taking the course in all phases of the subject.

The course will be conducted at North Dakota Agricultural College, Fargo, North Dakota, from June 19 through June 26, and will bring leading protective coatings technicians and managers from all over the country to assist Dr. Bosch.

It is the intent of the Federation of Paint and Varnish Production Clubs to acquaint high school science teachers with recent advances in paint technology so that they might be in a better position to advise their students of the opportunities in the paint industry itself.

Dan Goodrich of Maple Avenue is now home on a 15-day leave from Fort Sill, Oklahoma. He will leave for duty in Germany on June 6.

Two Named Top Honorary Society Members At MSU

Two Farmington students to graduate from Michigan State University this June were named among the 183 students to be accepted as new members of Phi Kappa Phi, top scholastic honorary society at MSU.

Farmington students named to the honorary society last week were Sally Sue DeLong, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. DeLong of 23320 Harcourt, and Norman Bowman of 22300 Inkster Road.

Initiation ceremonies for new members will be held on Thursday evening, June 7, at which time key or pin emblems will be awarded. Special awards will also be given by Phi Kappa Phi at the same time to freshman students who represent each class of Michigan High School.

According to Michigan State officials, new club members make up about eight per cent of this year's graduating class. All have compiled academic grade averages upward of 3.3 (a B grade yields three points).
