Mrs. V. Kirehner, GR. 4-1923

St. Gamma's Church on Outer Drive was the setting July 3, for the marriage of Nancy Kay Fitzpatrick and Michael Sutherland of the U. S. Navy. Mr. and Mrs. Paul Grand were the only attendants. A reception at Botsford Inn followed the ceremony.

Nancy, a former Farmington High School student, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Fitzpatrick of Springbrook Drive, and Michael is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Sutherland of Detroit.

The newlyweds left after the reception to make their home in Norman, Oklahoma, where the bridegroom is stationed for naval training.

After spending a few days at the home of his brother, Wesley Orr, Captain and Mrs. Burt Orr and family from Washington, D.C., have taken young Wesley with them for a two week vacation at Indian Lake in Upper Michigan.

The Detroit Yacht Club was the scene of a luncheon given by his superiors and associates honoring Ed Smith of Springbrook in recognition of his 25 years of service with the Detroit Edison Company. He was presented with a 25 year pin.

Mrs. Peggy Lorenzger was hostess to the birthday group at a coffee party Tuesday morning.

This was a double celebration, honoring Mrs. Alice Perner and Mrs. Pauline Tereschuk.

One of the highlights of the recent holiday at St. Clair Inn for the Victor Hannas and their children was a cruise up the St. Clair River for dinner at the Port Huron Country Club. The cruise is owned by Dr. Garrett, who was the skipper. Other members of the party were Shula O'Sullivan and Mr. and Mrs. H. Ingelgown.

Farmington Night will be held at Melody Circus Theater on August 3. Part of the receipts will be turned over to the Farmington Community House Fund. Springbrook residents who have tickets to sell are Barbara O'Flaherty, Virginia Calahan and Pearl Briggs.

Because birthdays were coming so close together, a change in the regular celebration of the birthday group was a huge success. An outdoor breakfast in Lord's yard, honoring Mrs. Nina Orr and Mrs. Peggy Badalucco, with three barbecues in action, was the order of the day.

Their hosts while in Denver were Jack and Helene Rickard, former Springbrook residents.

The Rickards' new home, the Moggles reported, is in Wheatridge, just outside of Denver, on a beautiful cliffside overlooking the snowcapped mountains.

During their stay they visited the old mining town of Cripple Creek, spent a day in the mountains and a day at the Canyon, and visited many other points of interest in the state. On their return trip they spent a few days visiting relatives in Indiana.

In a letter received by Mr. and Mrs. Herman Perner of Springbrook Drive, their daughter, Ann, reported that she is having a wonderful time during her two week stay at Clear Lake Camp. This

The Francis family has lived nearby for the past year while their new home was being built, and have already been welcomed to Farmington.

Mr. and Mrs. James Sharpe and children have just returned from a vacation trip. The trip began in Gary, Indiana, and was followed by an extensive tour of Wisconsin. MICHIGAN SELLS 2,300,000 GAME, FISH LICENSES IN 1955

Further proof of the heavy demand on Michigan's game and fish resources was indicated by 1955 license sales totals, released last week. More than 2,300,000 hunting and fishing licenses were issued for that calendar year.

Impressive as the figure may seem, it is not completely accurate because many more thousands enjoy fishing each year and are not required to purchase licenses. Wives of resident fishermen and children under 17 year of age do not need fishing permits. Also, no license is needed for sport fishing on the Great Lakes.

Fishing licenses accounted for approximately 1,150,000 of the total sales and another 226,000 trout stamps were purchased by fishermen.

The biggest jump in numbers, however, was among hunters as more than 1,218,000 were sold last year - an increase of about 32,000 over the preceding year.
