

The Ohio River, already a great coal carrier, will in five years be carrying as much or more coal for public utility use as it now carries for all public and private consumption.

The South Sea Islanders have a saying: When a man is fat and amiable, love her much because she will be a fat and sloppy woman too soon.

One outstanding trend at the big summer furniture market in Chicago was the use of more than one species of hardwood plywood in the same furniture item. A prime example was a line of occasional tables, each with a top of cherry plywood bordered in walnut.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Happy Swap

More and more farmers—who badly need hired help these days, but can't afford a full-time hand—are making deals with young town workers and the employers they work for.

For instance, young Ray Hooper now lives rent-free on Easy Robert's farm. In return, he works about 100 days a year for Easy—for a farmhand's pay.

The rest of the year Ray works for his "regular" boss... Buzz Ellis, the electrician. Buzz just speeds up his business when Ray's on hand—slows it down when he isn't—and, like Easy, pockets healthy savings in wages.

From where I sit, it's great how people with different backgrounds—and different viewpoints—can co-operate. How about most of us trying that? I live in a town—maybe you're a farmer, I'm partial to a good glass of beer—you may prefer coffee or milk. But we can make things pleasant by ignoring differences and giving each other a hand.

Warner Farms Fall Meeting Held

The fall meeting of the Warner Farms Improvement Association was held the latter part of September in the Farmington high school cafeteria with the highlight of the meeting being a talk by Earl Scherffus, Farmington City Manager.

Scherffus pointed out recent innovations and improvements made by the city and discussed briefly some of the future plans being formulated. The talk was followed by a question and answer period.

Reports by C. M. Geary, treasurer, and Paul Perry, membership chairman, indicated a rising bank balance for the association and a substantial increase in membership.

In order to keep the membership more fully informed of the work of the officers and directors of the association, Stuart Story was appointed to publish a monthly bulletin on association activities. Encouraged by last year's success, members also voted to hold another Halloween party this year for the children of the subdivision. Contributions were received and a committee appointed to plan the affair.

The next general meeting of the association will be held in November.

Little Chipmunks Harass Game Biologists Project

The little chipmunk, usually considered a "cute" animal because of his diminutive size and playful antics, actually is a skillful saboteur, according to Conservation Department game biologists.

The biologists, recently engaged in ruffed grouse trapping work on Beaver Island, found themselves harried and harassed by an army of mischievous chipmunks. Bait placed at grouse traps disappeared as quickly as the chipmunks could carry it away.

The little animals would pilfer the berries used as bait and then scamper off as the grouse trappers approached.

Three convertibles will carry them to their fifty-yard-line seats, where two dozen white mums will be presented to the queen, and baby mums corsages will be presented to the court members.

These ceremonies have been arranged by the Student Council. Bride will crown the queen at the annual homecoming dance Friday evening. The dance will start at 8:30 p. m. in the FHS gym and will end at 11:30. Since one of the prime functions of this affair is to welcome back alumni, no-1. D. cards will be needed for admittance.
