

Officials Prepare For Nov. 6 Vote

Farmington City and Township Clerks are now preparing for the November General Election in what is expected to be the largest turnout of voters in the history of the Farmington community.

Absentee ballots are available at both the City and Township offices and may be secured upon application. All persons who will not be in Farmington on election day, or who, because of some handicap, will not be able to visit the polls are requested to secure their absentee ballots as soon as possible.

In the meantime arrangements are being completed for the organization of election boards in all precincts. Both the City and Township Clerks reported the final registration lists up to that work is underway on bringing date.

ment of receipts in the amount of $100,000 from the 1958 Building, Site and Equipment bond sale. Officials stated that $40,000 of the $100,000 bond sale money will be made available for the payment of expenses already incurred in connection with the sale. Action was also taken to invest $40,000 in general fund moneys in short term securities.

Action on a proposal for permanent heating of the Board of Education office was tabled until the next regular meeting.

Added Conservation Officers Bolster Force

Michigan's conservation officer force will be the largest in the state's history as small game hunting seasons get into full swing. Officials indicated.

Forty-two new officers recently were assigned to field posts throughout the state after completing months of intensive training, they said.

Additional of these men boosts the total conservation officer force to 200.

Many of the new officers will be used during deer hunting season as a mobile force. This force will be shifted to areas of heavy hunting concentrations during both the regular and special deer seasons.

McGee Hill To Get Added Safety Aids

Earl Scherffius, City Manager, advised the Council Monday evening that signs and reflector strips for installation on North Farmington Road at McGee Hill have arrived and will be put up within the next few days.

The signs, including the wording "Danger, One Lane Bridge—Slow to 10 Miles per Hour," will be erected on the approaches of the hill. According to Scherffius, the reflector strips will be installed on the abutments of the bridge at the bottom of the hill. The City Manager also reported that arrangements have been made with the Detroit Edison company for improving the street lighting along the hill.

Scherffius stated that a meeting held with the County Road Commission on Monday to discuss the possibility of the county assuming responsibility for the road. The county advised city officials that it would not like to take over roads inside corporate limits. They indicated, however, that if the city purchased two culvert tubes, they would contract for the installation and widening of the bridge at a reasonable cost. It is estimated that the culvert tubes would cost approximately $1,500.

A number of councilmen expressed the opinion that the widening of the bridge would provide only partial and temporary relief.

City Council

mission, the Council agreed to action to take prior to adoption of the new zoning ordinance.

The Council approved a motion by a 3 to 2 vote to vacate Valleyview Drive and Monday, November 5 as the date of public hearing. The hearing will be held at 7:30 p.m. in the Municipal Building. Previously the City Manager had recommended that the road be improved from Prospect to Valleyview Circle. However, at the last meeting a petition was filed by property owners in the area requesting that the street be vacated. Action was delayed until Monday night in order that the signers could have an opportunity to express their views on the petition. The property owners stated that opening of the street would create a hazard because of increased through traffic.

A petition was filed with the Council, signed by five property owners in the Bel-Aire Subdivision, requesting that the city provide drainage from the block of property bounded by Beacon Drive, Marbledale Street and Lee Lane. Paul Pare, City Attorney, expressed the opinion that this was a matter for civil action between property owners.

A letter was read from the Planning Commission in which it recommended rejection of a request from the Farmington Development Company for the rezoning from Residential to Commercial of the northeast corner of Farmington Road and the Cut-Off. The Council passed a motion approving the recommendation.

Rate Area Fall Beauty Spots As State's Best

The countryside throughout the State is aflame with color—but many do not realize that within a few miles of Detroit and other nearby areas can be found beauty that is the equal of any in the State, the Southwestern Tourist and Publicity Association indicated.

The rolling hills and sparkling lakes of Lenawee, Washtenaw and Oakland Counties, and the blue water river and lake front areas of Macomb, St. Clair and Sanilac Counties provide the ideal background for showing off the scarlet and browns and other varied shades of the autumn foliage, the association claims.

At Kensington Park heading west on Grand River—an auto tour of approximately 28 miles is marked, and maps of the area are available at the Park's information center, it was pointed out. Whether one drives through the hardwoods or views the color along the lake shore from the deck of the "Island Queen"—the Mississippi type stern wheeler on Kent Lake—a trip to Kensington during October will be long remembered.

Find New Links To Tooth Decay

Tooth decay may be affected by body development and thyroid activity, according to a Michigan State University research team.

Differences in these two factors have been detected among two special strains of rats developed in the long-term M.S.U. tooth decay study. One strain of rats is susceptible to tooth decay, the other is not.

The research team found that when the initial period of body growth is past, decay-prone rats grow less than their cousins who resist tooth decay better.

In the same study, Drs. Waldo F. Keller of the University of Akron and E. Paul Reineke of M.S.U. appear to have found a relationship between tooth decay and thyroid gland activity. Decayed teeth retained more injected radioactive iodine in their thyroid glands in a test period.

He attended school in Sunfield and on June 1, 1914 was united in marriage to Edith Brees in Ohio. Mr. Meyers had retired from the Dodge Forge Plant and had lived in Farmington for the past three years, coming here from Detroit.

Funeral services will take place on Thursday at 2:00 p.m. from the Thayer Funeral Home, with Reverend Russell W. Sarsaw of the First Methodist Church officiating.

Surviving, besides his wife, are a daughter, Mrs. Margaret Kelley of Farmington, a sister, Mrs. Floyd Sharp, and one grandson, David.

Stockholders OK

Bank stock. Upon completion of the merger with the Farmington State Bank and the Peoples State Bank of Belleville, National Bank of Detroit, 11th largest bank in the nation, will have 35 bank offices in Detroit and neighboring suburban communities which comprise an extensive part of the metropolitan area.

In commenting on the merger Warner said, "We merged with National Bank of Detroit because of the growth of our community, the constantly increasing demand for export bank services, and the obvious vital need to anticipate and assist in our solid, balanced future growth. We needed the resources of NBD, but, at the same time, we wished to preserve the community spirit and relationship which were responsible for the growth of our bank and which had become one of our most valuable assets. I am glad to say that community spirit and relationships have been preserved."

"The vast resources of National Bank of Detroit make it possible for us to expand and to provide many additional and advantageous bank and trust services to everyone, regardless of the size of their account or their transaction. Our customers, our personnel, our community, and our stockholders are enthusiastic about the merger and to be a part of the NBD team."

Operation of the Farmington office, National Bank of Detroit, will be under the same system which has proved so successful in the other NBD offices in Wayne, Inkster, Garden City, Novi, Plymouth, Livonia, Lathrup Village, Huntington Woods, Rochester, Uxiah, Harper Woods, Grosse Pointe, Grosse Pointe Farms and Warren.

Stockholders of National Bank of Detroit, at a special meeting October 15, approved a proposal to increase the $10 par value common stock of the bank in the amount of 253,400 shares. These shares will be offered to shareholders pro rata for subscription on the basis of one additional share for each 10 shares held of record at the opening of business November 1.

Board Approves

The Township Board, Planning Board, planning consultant firm and subdivision regulations to work out these subdivision regulations as soon as possible. A meeting was tentatively set for this Friday.

The Board had previously approved a set of Subdivision regulations as presented by the Planning Board. However, the regulations were later rescinded on the grounds that they were too complicated. Still later the Board took action to rescind its previous motion, but this was declared illegal.

The planning consultant emphasized the fact, in discussion on the commercial land use plan, that it was formulated ideally by a satisfied that area when totally developed. They also pointed out that this or any other plan must be flexible. It can be based only on estimates of ultimate population, family income and conditions as shown by trends at this time, they said.
