Our Real Faith Rests on Deeds, Not Just Words
WE tend to put emphasis on words, not on deeds. But our real faith and our real religion rests on what we do and what we do not do, not on what we say or profess.

Jesus emphasized that truth by stories, parables about extreme situations. "When He told of the good Samaritan caring for the beaten victim of highway robbery. He did not mean to imply that Samaritans were better than Seribes or Pharisees. He wanted to show that a Samaritan—despised, unorthodox estimate, according to the Jewish estimate of the time—could in reality be a much better man than an insincere person of orthodox profession.

It was precisely this fact that is amply religious people are in danger of forgetting. Too often we judge men by their labels. Further illustrating his point, Jesus told of the two sons whom the father asked to work in the vineyards. "The one son, so far as words are concerned, was very willing and compliant. He answered readily that he was going, but he did not go.

The other son, in some mood or disposition of rebelliousness, declared he would not go, but afterwards he repented and did go. Jesus asks the very sensible question: Which of these did the will of his father?

The implication is very plain. Jesus asks us, in effect: Which of these two attitudes are we ourselves taking in relation to our Heavenly Father, who has asked us to go to work in the vineyard of the world and to live according to His will?

Suggest Novelty Gift Wrap Ideas
Novelty gift wrapping will make the packages under your Christmas tree part of your holiday decorations. Have fun wrapping gifts and trimmings with the new and ends. Christmas greens arranged on a box are very attractive. Semigloss them to the box before the finishing touch of ribbon is added.

Candy canes taped under a small box make a sleigh; Santa Claus in miniature may ride as a passenger on top. Or, mock candles may be arranged on the top of a package using candy canes of various sizes. Holes in the box support the candles and are easily disguised with little silver candles.

Wrapping paper with wide stripes makes a good background for Christmas cards cut from foil paper. Paste the giant notes on the lines and spaces of the paper. Designs from last year's Christmas cards are fun to find on children's packages. Wrap the box in plain paper and paste on the cut-out pictures.

After your work on Christmas packages, put them under the tree as long before Christmas as possible. Then you can enjoy their beauty and originality through all your pre-Christmas festivities.

BAPTIST WOMEN OF THE North Farmington Baptist Women's Society have been extremely active in the organization since its formation earlier this year are shown above.
