Duns Scotus Slates Concert

Workshop in the Woods at Duns Scotus College will have its mid-season concert called "chamber music jam-boree" on Friday, July 13, beginning at 7:45 p.m.

The concert will begin outdoors on the campus at 2000 W. Nine Mile in Southfield and will move indoors to the chapel at sunset. Admission is free, and the public may come and go as they please during the concert.

Cosponsored by the Southfield Arts Council, Southfield Dept. of Parks and Recreation and Duns Scotus, the concert will include works by Handel, Bach, Telemann, Gounod, Boccherini, Beethoven, Vivaldi, Haydn and others.

A select group of students who are attending the workshop will perform along with faculty members who are members of the Detroit Symphony.

The chamber orchestra will be joined by Ray Bennett, founder and artistic director of the Workshop in the Woods and bassist with the Detroit Symphony. Shaul Ben-Meir of the symphony and head of the woodwind department will also perform.

The students began their concert program by performing in hospitals, convalescent homes, nursing homes and orphanages.

Soloists for Bach's Double Violin Concerto will be Phyllis Fleming and Maria Petkoff.

4 Concerts To Star Livonian

Rosemary Jackson of Livonia will make four appearances as a soloist this summer with the Detroit Concert Band. Mrs. Jackson is a lyric soprano.

The band, under the direction of Dr. Leonard B. Smith, gives free concerts each summer on Belle Isle and at the Michigan State Fair Grounds.

Mrs. Jackson will sing at 8:15 p.m., Saturday, July 14; Thursday, July 19; Wednesday, July 25; and Friday, Aug. 10. The first three concerts will be on Belle Isle and the last at the 'fair grounds.

She will sing "If Ever I Would Leave You," from "Camelot" by Frederick Loewe; "Quel guardo il Cavaliere" by Donizetti; and "If I Could Tell You" by Isabelle Firestone.

Dance Groups To Perform

Six of Michigan's outstanding modern dance companies will appear in a Dance Forum in the Detroit Institute of Arts on Sunday, July 15.

The free program will be presented from 2 to 4 p.m. in the museum's North Wing Court.

Groups participating are the Eastern Michigan University Dance Theater; Harbinger, resident dance company of the Detroit Community Music School; the Wayne State University Dance Workshop; a University of Michigan student dance group; the Henry Ford High School Dance Workshop; and the Detroit Cooperative Dance Company.

A summer repertory theater presentation, it will be staged July 18-28 in CMU's Bush Theater.

It is one of three American stage classics to be presented by the company. Others include "Our Town" and "Dracula."

GARY DIRDA

MT. PLEASANT
Gary Dirda of Southfield has been selected for the role of Uncle Stanley in Central Michigan University's production of "George Washington Slept Here."

Swim Party

The Michigan Association of Jewish College Students will sponsor a barbecue, swim and dance at 7:30 p.m., Tuesday, July 17, in the Jewish Community Center, 18100 Meyers.

Tickets are $2.50. For reservations, call the community center.
