Rehearsals Begin For Folk Operetta

The cast of "Down in the Valley" American folk operetta to be presented May 14 by the Clarenceville Music Department, is now rehearsing regularly. Under the direction of Donald Perrin, Clarenceville vocal music instructor, the cast has held rehearsals and formed committees to handle the business aspects of the production. Playing the leading female role of "Jenny" will be senior Joyce McKinney. The male lead will be portrayed by David Single as "Brack".

Other cast members include: Russell Waack, father, Harry George, Tom Bouschi, and Don Melton, narrator. The minor roles will be played by Robert Gordon and Frank Baker.

"Down in the Valley" is an American folk operetta concerning Brack Weaver who is accused of murdering Tom Bouschi. Brack's sweetheart, Jenny, is in love with the plot which portrays life in the mountains of early America.

Sets for "Down in the Valley" will be designed by the Clarenceville art department under the guidance of Bill Decker. Members of the art class will participate in both construction and design of the sets.

Eight To Compete In League Spring Forensics Meet

Millford High School will play host to speakers from Holly, Clarenceville, West Bloomfield, Clarkston, Bloomfield Hills, and Northville, in a Wayne-Oakland County League Spring Forensics Contest, March 16.

Participants from the seven schools in the WOCL will compete in the five fields of original oratory, extemporaneous, memorized declamation, humorous, and oral interpretation.

Clarenceville's entries will include Kay Mann and Sharon Edgar in original oratory. Miss Mann will deliver an original oration entitled "Our Nation of Children" and Miss Edgar has chosen "The Forgotten Child" as her topic.

Foreign exchange student Elda Dezens will represent Clarenceville in the field of extemporaneous.

Mary Ann Crouch will deliver a memorized declamation "Dead End Street." Sharon Finner and Barbara Lesiewicz will enter the field of humorous with their presentations, "Arsenic and Old Lace" and "Aunt Emma's Figure."

In the field of oral interpretation, Cynthia Beerbohm and Sara McKiddie will present "The Glass Menagerie" and "The Four Lost Men."

The contest at Millford will begin at 9:30 a.m. Mr. Hixson, Miss Anderson, and Miss Lauermann coach Spring Forensics at Clarenceville.

Atomic rockets and other nuclear warheads have been distributed to Air Force units guarding U. S. industrial areas, seaports, major communication points and military and scientific installations.

ces in Toledo, Ohio will soon drop to $4.15 per hundredweight milk. In Chicago the return will be on $3.80 during the spring months.

With these "out-of-state" centers only too willing to ship milk into Michigan, M.P.A. members voted on February 22, to accept $4.90 a hundredweight for consumer milk instead of $5.35.

Federal Milk Orders offer some help. They establish a "floor" for prices in a given area. However, many milk producers view these bottom prices as unrealistic and too inflexible.

An old economic law is involved. When supply exceeds demand, prices decrease. Until a solution to the problem of supplying milk is found, dairy farmers must continue to produce milk under unstable economic conditions.

High Gasoline Prices are being cited in the Michigan legislature with bills to reduce the state gas tax from its present six cents a gallon level.

Senator Carlton Morris, (R-Kalamazoo) would reduce the tax to 5 cents a gallon and continue to distribute the receipts on the same basis as the law now provides. A separate bill presented by Robert Faulkner (R-Coloma) asks for a one-half cent tax decrease. At present, federal and state taxes are 9 1/2 cents on every gallon of gas purchased in Michigan.

Four National Holidays would be observed in Michigan on Monday if a bill introduced by Senator John B. Swainson (D-Detroit) is endorsed by the state legislature. Swainson proposes that Washington's birthday be celebrated the third Monday in February and called "Presidents' Day." Memorial Day, now May 30, would be changed to the last Monday in May.

Instead of a July 4 date for Independence Day, the "holiday" would be observed on the first Monday of July. Thanksgiving would come on the second Monday in November, rather than the fourth Thursday.

Mary L. Fox and Mrs. Deloid Ramage of Farmington attended the 15th anniversary luncheon of Highland Park Blue Star Mother Chapter in Highland Park on Wednesday.

They were accompanied by Mrs. Arthur Krueger of Milford and Mrs. Ethel Whitford of Detroit.
