Natural GAS

YOUR SILENT SERVANT

"Packing Houses" Aid Natural Gas Service

Natural gas is carefully "packed" as it travels along the 2,000 mile trip from the south-western gas fields to Michigan customers.

Taking care of the "packing" operation are gas compressor stations about every hundred miles along the pipeline route. Here engines with thousands of horsepower squeeze the gas under as much as 1,000 pounds of pressure and force it through the pipelines. The pressure drops, as the gas noves along, until another compressor station "repacks," cleans, and pushes the compressed gas toward the next "packing

The never ending work at the compressor stations speeds natural gas to consumers, improves service and helps keep gas rates low.

Only GAS does so much, so well . . . the modern tivel for automatic cooking . . refrigeration . . . water-heating . . . house-heating . . . air conditioning . . . clothes-drying . . incineration.
