Looking Ahead

would be unfaithful to my own conscience and to those things that I have stood for during the time that I have been in public life if I did not denounce this budget as one of the most perilous budgets that has ever been presented us, because it will continue to grow and grow throughout the years to come.

Michigan Mirror

Maxey turned "thumbs down" in each case on the basis that these communities are located too far from Detroit and lack adequate medical and social care.

The Northville location fulfills Maxey's requirements according to Whitmore Lake residents. In addition, they stress the state already owns this land; that since some facilities are installed, costs would be lower for Michigan taxpayers. At weeks end, both sides remained uncompromised.

Births and Deaths in Michigan during 1956 are providing new records at the Michigan Department of Health.

For example, in 1956:

1. A new all time high was set for the state's birth rate.
2. A new low was established for the death rate.

It adds up to the fact that for every five deaths recorded in Michigan, 16 babies were increasing the state's population—a rate of better than 3 to 1.

Well ahead of the national average, the Michigan birth rate was 27.4 for every 1,000 population.

To implement recommendations by the Health Department, this rate accounts for some 205,650 new babies.

Michigan's record low death rate was 8.5 persons for every 1,000 population.

Around the nation the average for births was 24.9 per 1,000 (24 less than in Michigan). Deaths averaged 9.4, or almost one more per 1,000.

Previous records were established in 1954. All were broken by the new figures. The 1956 rates give Michigan a "Vital Index" of 320. According to Health Department officials, this means that there were 320 births for every 100 deaths. Nationally, the Vital Index is 266—some 54 points lower.

The Vital Index will be referred to many times in the years ahead by educators planning school facilities; by towns and cities charting growth; by manufacturers when estimating the size of their market. In view of the high birth rate, all are planning for a "big" future.

Two Blind Mice Farmington Players

"When I was in Washington recently many men on Capitol Hill told me they were getting an almost record-breaking mail demanding curtailment of federal expenditures and lowering of taxes. If this grass roots clamor continues, the "Byrd" budget cutting $6.5 billion from the recommended spending for the next fiscal year will get even more serious consideration in the Congress and taxes might begin to come down.
