

CELERY
Celery is a good food for use as roughage in the diet. Seven calories a stalk makes it attractive to most between-meal-munchers. Cool weather delayed the growth of Michigan's early summer celery, but the crop is now being harvested. When you buy look for medium stalks that are solid, firm and thick suggests the MSU Farm Marketing Information Agent, Mrs. Josephine Lawyer.

VISITS MALABAR FARM
Carl A. Wheaton of Alta Loma Drive visited the Malabar Farm in Ohio, former home of Louis Bromfield, last week. The farm has now been turned over to Friends of the Land as an experiment station and museum. From here Wheaton went on to visit a good friend and colleague, Jesse Stuart, and family who live at W-Hollow near Riverton, Kentucky.

Ford Trade School Alumni To Honor Dr. Fred Searle On 86th Birthday

Dr. Fred E. Searle, 24145 Locust Drive, former superintendent of the Henry Ford Trade School in Dearborn, will honor the school on the 86th birthday of its founder, August 1, by members of the Trade School Alumni Association at a party on Monday.

Dr. Searle, a nationally known leader in vocational education work, was the first superintendent of the Henry Ford Trade School when it was located at the Ford Motor Company plant in Highland Park. The school was later moved to Dearborn when the River Rouge plant was opened for operation. Dr. Searle continued as head of the Trade School until his retirement.

During World War II, he was in charge of the U. S. Navy training program, sponsored by the Ford Motor Company, as well as war training programs conducted at Willow Run.

The program honoring Dr. Searle will be held at Bonnie Brook Country Club. The invocation will be given by Reverend Fred Dickelton of Garden City, former instructor at the Trade School. Theodore Bonaventura, president of the Trade School Alumni Association, will preside. The Toastmaster will be Allen Crowe, president of the Economics Club of Detroit. Ernest L. Bridge, a graduate of the Trade School and Detroit Juvenile Court Referee, will give a biography of Dr. Searle's life. John French, president of the City Bank, will tell what Dr. Searle is doing at the present time. Father Celestin J. Steiner, president of the University of Detroit, will be the main speaker of the evening.

Honored guests at the anniversary program will be Henry Ford, II; William Clay Ford; Fred Lack, U. of M. professor; Dr. William Strick, vice-president of U. of M.; Mayor Albert Soboy, president emeritus and consultant, G. M. Institute of Technology; Logan Miller, former vice-president, Ford Motor Company; Dr. Studer, former official of Y.M.C.A.; Gordon Ureux, former personnel director of Ford Trade School; Earl Bedell, vocational director of the Detroit Public Schools; John F. Petzer, head of Bonnie Brook Country Club; A. C. Tagg, co-publisher of the Farmington Enterprise; and Lloyd Gillen, Farmington realtor.

In the seventeenth century, it was not unusual to see a "bread and cake eating lady" at English fairs. One such performer ate 12 pounds of cake and bread in a half hour at each of six daily appearances.

Set Small Game Hunting Rules

The Conservation Commission approved a number of small game hunting regulations at its July meeting at Higgins Lake training school, but deferred action on deer, ruffed grouse and waterfowl until August.

Included in a long agenda were regulations on pheasants, rabbits, sharp-tailed grouse and prairie chickens, shooting hours and several minor points.

Pheasant season, which normally opens October 20, this year will open at 10 a.m., October 21. October 20 this year is a Sunday and many counties prohibit Sunday hunting. The state legislature passed this year enacted a law providing for an October 21 small game season opening in the southern lower peninsula whenever October 29 falls on Sunday.

Drummond Island will be open to sharp-tail and prairie chicken hunters this year, as will most of the upper peninsula. A portion of Chippewa county will be closed, as last year.

Ruffed grouse regulations, authorizing the full 41-day season and five per day bag limits, were included on the July agenda but deferred until August at the request of a delegation that wanted further study of the problem.

The framework of waterfowl hunting regulations is scheduled to come from the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service in August and Commission action will be based on that framework. Deer regulations must await final field surveys work before Commission action in August.

THANK YOU

I would like to thank all of the people who helped me out on the past two nice week-ends and I hope you will continue to bring your empty bottles into the store.

My boss has gotten so short of cash paying refunds that I think it's only fair for me to ask for some help for him, too. He carries the coldest beverages in town, American Express money orders, lunch meats and a complete line of picnic and party supplies.

Come in and see us at the Dickie Lou Market. It's the PINK store just north of Eight Mile Road on Farmington Road.

Thanks Again,
MARLAN TERRY

What's Happening In Your Township

BY FRANK STEPHENSON
Township Supervisor

In behalf of all the citizens of Farmington Township, I take this opportunity of thanking the Editor of the Enterprise for the space allotted to me. In order to let all citizens properly informed about such matters as: Taxation - Assessment - Michigan Law covering Road Classification and fund allocations - Township Planning Water - Sewers - and Township Government in general.

The dog warden is a busy man these days. He, himself, is in the "dog house" with his mother. When he "hired in", he gave his home telephone number, which was published by Jim Tagg and rightfully so - but to get the warden off the hook, please call GR 4-6115 with complaints or for information pertaining to the canine population.

Our thanks to Mr. Scherffius, City Manager, for having the road removed from the municipality in the City Park. We sincerely hope it does not stop there.

More about this park later.

President Eisenhower, following a precedent established in 1948, has again issued an official proclamation designating October 23 as United Nations Day - and called upon the National, State and local governments to participate in the nationwide observance of that important occasion. We have selected chairman who will form a committee to see that this important event will be fittingly and properly observed in the Township. Let's all get behind this committee!

We are in receipt of the postal district Master Plan Study by Velican-Leman & Associates, Planning Consultants. This study in book form explains the possibilities of industrial development in the Township; taking into account the terrain, the highways, the kind of industry, the industrial value, the number of workers, the total jobs created and the general economic development engendered by such industrial growth.

A joint meeting of the Township and Planning Boards is scheduled for August 1, 1957 at 8:00 p.m. for the purpose of studying this very important matter.

So I leave you this week with the words of Thomas Fuller:

"Contentment consists not in multiplying wealth, but in subtracting desires."

P.S. Owners of property in the "Dry Area" may sign petitions in the Township Office - Monday through Thursday - 9:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Friday - 9:00 a.m. to 8:00 p.m.

Member Of Navy Mich. Company

Among those arriving at Great Lakes Naval Training Center as a special group of 123 Michigan recruits was Dick Bain of Farmington. They were welcomed aboard last Monday by Captain Albert C. Burrows U.S. Navy, the center commander. He informed them they would be formed into two special Michigan Homecoming Companies.

Captain Burrows, addressing Michigan's newest Navy recruits, said, "Following processing you will be formed as the special Michigan companies for the three week recruit training period in which young 'men-o-warsmen' pre-trained in basic skills required of all seafaring men."

The Great Lakes Navy Homecoming celebration of which 2 million alumni of the center is an opportunity to revisit their Navy alma mater during the summer-long festivities which will continue through October 7.

Included in the plans will be recognition of the oldest living Michigan alumnus of Great Lakes. Since records of the early companies at Great Lakes are no longer available, the center is interested in hearing from early alumni.

Officials stated that due to economic and favorable bids, it is presently a surplus of 1955 fund, which is earmarked for construction of the first unit of the new high school. At the same time the 1952 building and site fund has been expended with out completion of the planned projects for school buildings and additions.

School officials explained that the transfer can not be made without authorization from the voters.

COMPLETE PAVING WORK ON FLORAL AND LILAC STREETS

Work is expected to be completed this week on the special assessment paving of Floral and Lilac Streets, East Scherffius, City Manager, announced Monday.

The concrete paving project covers all of Floral from Grand River north to Shawwassee. At the same time, work has been started on the grading and base preparation for the surfacing of Hawthorne Street from Shawwassee north to a point 200 feet south of Elm.

Scherffius stated that following the grading operations, Hawthorne will be opened to traffic for approximately a month in order to compact the road bed. The asphalt surface will be applied early in September.

GLASS CUTTING MADE EASY

QUESTION: Why is it that emergency troubles—such as stopped-up plumbing, blown fuses or broken windows—plague the homeowner most often on the weekend, when he has the least chance of getting to a store or hiring a tradesman?

ANSWER: That, as the saying goes, is the way the ball bounces.

I'm hardly in a position to diagnose purely hypothetical plumbing problems. Nor can I do much for your blown fuse—except to suggest that you keep plenty of spares on hand at all times. What I can do, though, is offer you a few step-by-step instructions on how to replace that broken window pane by cutting down any old piece of window glass that may be lying around your domain.

Glass cutting is tricky, but anyone can do it with a little patience and practice. It's best to experiment a little with a trial cut or two if you have enough glass to do so.

Lay the glass on a flat surface and wipe oil or turpentine along the line where you'll be cutting. Then, using a straight edge, apply moderately firm pressure to make a clean, even cut with the glass cutter, starting about a quarter of an inch from the edge and making sure you don't retrace any of the line.

Next, slip a one-inch board under the glass and line its edge up with the scored line. Then, with one hand holding the good portion, snap the other hand down on the other section, pushing away from the scored line.

Presto! There you have a clean cut exactly where you wanted it.

(What's that? It broke in the wrong place? Too bad, but that's also the way the ball bounces. Like I said, it takes patience.)

Now that you know how to replace a window pane in an emergency, don't forget we offer all the materials you will need for window installations or repairs.

Next Week: How not to fall off a ladder.
