

Smart Businessmen Know It Pays To Advertise Their Business Here

IT'S EASY to conduct an election campaign when you have a built-in committee of 11 kids to help you. That's the story with D. Thomas Kavanagh, Democratic hopeful for Redford Township Treasurer, who posed with his youngsters this week. Row one, left to right, are Sean, 5; Tommy, 12; Dennis, 11; Terry, 10; row two: Anne, 8; Mrs. Patricia Kavanagh Bridgite, 4; Kavanagh; Caroline, 3; Rosemary, 9; row three: Patricia, 13; Kathryn, 15; and Maureen, 17.

Candidate, Livonia City Clerk in Tiff Over Registration Lists

A dispute over voter registration lists flared this week when a Livonia candidate for State Representative charged City Clerk Addison Bacon with "ignoring" state laws by not making the lists available to the public.

Marie E. Miller, Democratic candidate from the 35th District, made the charge in a telegram to Secretary of State James M. Hare. She said she had tried to obtain copies of the lists from the Clerk's office without success, and she cited state statutes which she said required cities to provide names of registered persons on request.

Addison Bacon, City Clerk, meanwhile said that no such list existed in the Clerk's office when he took office in April and that he didn't have a large enough staff to compile one.

"We are presently investigating ways to develop this information on a practical and economical basis," he said. "The existing staff would not allow

Civic Searchlight Backs County Ballot Proposition

The Civic Searchlight, a non-partisan organization devoted to the promotion of good government, has added itself to the large group of civic-minded organizations which have endorsed a "yes" vote for County Proposition No. 1.

Passage of Wayne County Proposition No. 1 will allow the County to maintain a minimum level of essential services for the health, welfare and public safety of its citizens. It calls for one dollar per $1,000 State equalized property valuation and would cost the average home owner 50 cents a month.

All registered voters should vote on Wayne County Proposition No. 1.

Among other groups endorsing Wayne County Proposition No. 1 which will appear on the Sept. 1 ballot are: American Association of University Women, Detroit Central Business District Association, Detroit Board of Education, Detroit Association for Retarded Children, Detroit League of Women Voters, Ford Local 600, United Auto Workers, Jewish Family and Children's Service, Metropolitan Detroit Council of Churches, Wayne County Association, Michigan Nursing Home Association, Michigan Association for Emotionally Disturbed Children, Wayne County Medical Society, Wayne County School Board Association, Wayne County AFL-CIO and United Community Services.

No Excuse for Voters Failing on Signing In

(Editor's Note: It is suggested that residents clip the schedule contained in this story, and take advantage of the special registration.)

Special times and places for voter registration were announced today by Farmington Township Clerk Edward Cairns as a service to Township voters who will want to participate in the Nov. 3 Presidential election.

City of Farmington Clerk, Mrs. Quinn, also has some special plans.

Cairns disclosed that starting Sept. 11, he will send special deputies to key schools and other locations about the Township "to make registration as simple and convenient as possible."

The Township special registration schedule:

Sept. 11 - William Grace School, 29040 Shawneese, 7 to 9 p.m.

Sept. 18 - Gill Road School, 21195 Gill Road, 7 to 9 p.m.

Sept. 25 - O. E. Dunckel School, 32800 Twelve Mile, 7 to 9 p.m.

Demo Supervisor Aspirant Hits Traffic Problems In Farmington

Aldo Vagnoni, unopposed Democratic candidate for Farmington Township Supervisor, says he will give top priority to solving the critical traffic safety problem if he is elected this fall.

Vagnoni says that there is an ever-mounting total of traffic deaths and injuries in Farmington Township.

He was critical of what he called "over-cracking" by the present Township administration on requests made by citizens last fall for lowered speed limits in school zones and other congested areas. Vagnoni proposed an 11-point traffic safety program.

A series of meetings were held at the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Zuchowicki, Mr. and Mrs. William Hungerford, Mr. and Mrs. Edward C. McVine and Mr. and Mrs. Aldo Vagnoni. Vagnoni has been active in the drive for safer traffic conditions and is chairman of the Kimberly Subdivision Association safety committee. The candidate is a graduate of Wayne State University.
