

Modern Art Is Topic Of Lecture

"The Approach to Modern Art," opening lecture in a six-week series on "Looking at Modern Art" will be given here by Michael P. Church, the University Center for Adult Education (WU-UM-EMU) announces. The lecture series is designed to give the viewer an insight into and an understanding of contemporary art, says Sanford M. Golden, area supervisor for the University Center for Adult Education. Speakers include Prof. C. Alden Smith, chairman of the department of art and art history at Wayne State University.

The lectures will be given in the Classroom Building, U-M Dearborn Campus, 4801 Evergreen Road, at 7:30 p.m. on Tuesdays, beginning Sept. 22.

Registration may be made at the Classroom Building through Sept. 19, 10:00-5:00 p.m. on weekdays and from 1:00-5:00 p.m. on the Saturday of Sept. 19.

Farmington Golfer Scores An Ace

Ted Morris, 44, of 30034 Briarlane, Farmington, finally achieved a lifetime ambition when he made a hole-in-one on the 155-yard 17th hole at the Kensington Metropolitan Park course.

Morris, who has been playing golf for 25 years, hit a nine iron on the par three hole and the ball hit a tree and rolled into the cup. He had an 85 for the 18 holes.

Morris was playing in a foursome with Ted Kleinhaus, Bob Wisniewski and Bob Auman from the Briar Hill subdivision.

What's Going on Among Farmington's Girl Scouts?

By AMY CHARRON, 474-0713

Hello everyone!

I want to extend our hand of sympathy to BRIDGET REAGAN, and members of her family at the loss of her mother, MRS. BEATRICE SMITHERS, who died on her eightieth (80th) birthday SEPT. 9th.

EYEGLASSES NEEDED

Got a few tips for some good service projects, and my Brownie girls can help with this, too. Senior Troop No. 258 is collecting old glasses (eyes), that are no longer needed. These eye glasses are passed on to people all over the world, that can't afford to buy them. Mrs. Bridget Reagon, leader of the troop, can be reached at 474-3309.

NEED HELP

Mrs. C. Goltz, told of the request made by Mrs. Phil Sills. The retarded children at the Plymouth State Home are in need of the following. This can be done by all age groups, and even girls of Brownie age can help. This can be a good service project.

These children need "Tray Favors" and many are needed. The items must be soft, not too large, something easy to handle. Stuffed toys were suggested, but any colorful item be welcome. The children love favors made from paper rolls, again not too large, and filled with candy. Make sure that it is nothing this type of little one can hurt themselves with. Mrs. Goltz will be collecting the items. I will always take messages, both for glasses and for the Home. My number is 474-0713.

HALLOWEEN CANDY

Halloween is coming, and last year candy was collected for these children. An offering of Trick or Treat Candy be welcomed again. Mrs. Goltz collects this also. The candy must

Civil Rights Leader Asks Housing Opportunity in Speech to Livonians

Segregated living conditions are the root of other patterns of discrimination and prejudice, a Detroit civil rights leader told an audience of 125 Livonians last week.

"Housing is the mother of segregation and many other social evils in this country," James Del Rio, director of the Supreme Life Insurance Co., and a former real estate broker, said, "Segregated living conditions breed ignorance, which in turn breeds suspicion, and people who live in these conditions end up practicing hatred."

Speaking to a meeting sponsored by the Livonia Citizens for Better Human Relations, Del Rio told of his efforts to break racial segregation in Pontiac. "There are many areas in that city, now," he said, "where white and Negro people live side-by-side, amicably and without conflict."

Del Rio said minority groups had a potent weapon to use in breaking down segregation in suburban areas, but that it wouldn't succeed unless sympathetic white residents gave their aid.

"There are 3,000 homes all over metropolitan Detroit," including perhaps 30, 40 or 50 in Livonia—which are vacant, and owned by the Veterans Administration or Federal Housing Administration. "These homes may be listed by any broker, and by law must be shown to people of all races. Negroes are perfectly able to purchase them now, or at any time, and the pattern of segregation thus can easily be broken."

Reader Speaks Up

10 Questions for Lady Editor:

This is addressed to the lady who wrote in about the Village Green apartments last week.

She has a right to object as a citizen to anything she disavows or disapproves, since this is American democracy. Not having a college education myself, my knowledge of price-tagging the community housing and more expensive homeowner areas is all.

training, since I've been employed by one of the papers involved in the present strike for fourteen years. I have my seniority to think of and don't want to give up the job for another. I have to find some kind of work, because things are really setting tough.

1. What is valuable first class property?
2. What class of people make up the general character of an area?
3. Isn't over-population a problem everywhere?
4. Are custom built homes the answer to a better community?
5. How long did you live in Herman Gardens?
6. Who elects the politicians other than the citizens?
7. What does hardship have to do with $45,000 homeowners?
8. Who creates undesirable zoning and what is it?
9. Does a college education give you a higher position in the community?
10. Does it automatically make a first class citizen?

Fortunately, we were able to make contact with several employers who are in need of full time temporary employees and this man and three of his friends (also affected by the strike) are now working. I had occasion to speak with one of my friends who is involved in police work and he commented that a lot of the boys who want work are under the mistaken impression that the Youth Employment Service is just for kids who want to mow lawns or work as baby sitters.

Yes we do fill these job requests, but for over a year, we have been receiving numerous requests from employers for young men and women, ages 17 and over, who are seeking opportunities for full time training positions at a good starting salary.

If any of your readers are between the ages of 17-23 and either reside in Livonia or attend school in Livonia, we invite them to call or come into the Youth Employment Service in the Livonia City Hall and discuss the work situations that are available to them. The office is open from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday-Friday and from 9 a.m. to noon on Saturday. The telephone number is GR 6-1200, Ext. 243.

Many employers are willing to provide situations for learning a trade that a young person can put to good use in later life. Many employers are willing to give youth a "Chance to Earn and Learn" and now it is up to the young people to meet the challenge and take advantage of the opportunities being offered to them.

If it wasn't for educated investors, you would have no worry about your precious acreage and custom-built homes. They're your type of people with position and money, but they are trying (or so it appears to me) to bring better housing and more citizens into Farmington who can't afford custom homes. Although these people may be Class A citizens means to nothing but congestion and "ruining property value" to you. Farmington Outcaste

As editor of a fine newspaper, may I congratulate you on a splendid job.

But may I ask one favor? Will you please visit the terrible mess and shame of a comparatively well-to-do City's dog pound? No one ever stays long enough to see how they exterminate our pets!

It's a crying shame. Can't they use cyanide or chloroform? Instead of the exhaust fumes from their trucks?

Dogs cannot speak for themselves so may I be their voice to you and may you be their voice to the people.
