Exchange Vows

Glynda Louise Kleabir, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John G. Chamie of Northway Road, Livonia, became the bride of Omar Chamie, son of Mr. and Mrs. Osman Chamie of Dearborn, Sept. 5, at St. Michael Catholic Church, Livonia. The double marriage ceremony at twelve o'clock noon was performed by Rev. friend Father Robert Burkholder. The soloist was Mr. Thomas Cooney, accompanied by Mrs. C. Murphy.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a Cassian Gown with a lace collar and a scalloped hemline. Ivory Spanish lace covered the floor length sheath which was fashioned with a Bateau neckline, short sleeves and two sunburst pleats at the sides of the skirt. The detachable Watteau sash, a lace length train and a lace hemline. Spanish lace applique draped from her shoulders and was held in place by a lace fabric bow. The ivory Catherine length illusion veil was attached to a crown of lace and satin to match her gown. She wore elbow length ivory satin gloves and carried an original designed Glamella Rose fashion from old Ivory Gladiolus and complemented by Stephanos and a small floral bouquet.

She chose her sister, Mrs. Suzanne Portman, as her matron of honour, who was attired in a floor length gown of Picardy Gladiolus colored chiffon fashioned with Empire bodice and neckline, a lace hemline and flowing lace panels. She wore a matching satin Dior bow headpiece and ivory elbow length gloves. She carried a Glamella Rose of Ivory and Picardy Gladiolus complemented with Laurel foliage. The bridesmaids, Mrs. Linda Kellner and Mrs. Edith Kellner were attired in the same mode and color as the matron of honour. The bride also chose her niece, Michele Portman, as flower girl. She wore a matching floor length gown and carried a wider lace bow. The flower girl's dress was held across it. Daniel Portman, the bride's nephew, was ring bearer and following the formal mode of the wedding, was attired in a full dress cutaway and carried the rings on an Ivory satin lace pillow.

The groom was attended by Donald A. Portman as best man, Ushers were Ronald LaGrow and Douglas Mauna.

A dinner was held at the Hawthorne Valley Country Club following the ceremony. The bride's mother, Mrs. Osman Chamie, Mrs. Susan VanValenburg, was honour guest at the bride's table. The dining room of the club was beautifully decorated in the color scheme of the wedding party. An evening reception was held at the Country Club and guests from Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Ohio, Pennsylvania and Canadian guests from London and Windsor, Ontario, Canada enjoyed the musical selections of two bands, American and Syrian.

The bride graduated from Bentley High and is an alumna of Clarke College, Dubuque, Iowa. The groom graduated from Fordson High, Dearborn. The newlyweds motored to Las Vegas, Nevada.

Marygrove
Daughter-Dads
'Round-Up'

Bandanas and ten-gallon hats will mushroom on the Marygrove Campus Range Nov. 7 when college daughters and Dads Club Round-Up for an annual Saturday.

According to Walter Kosteck, general chairman, and co-chairman Jerome Gorski, Dads from 14 states and from Canada will be dating daughters for dinner and dancing.

Registration competition, keen between classes, keeps participants running as wires humming to rattle dabs.

But Tom McKernan, chairman, and Joseph Imrich of the food committee predict a stampede when the dads hit the barbecue trail.
