

United Nations' 19th Birthday Gets Special Observance in Suburbs

Nineteen years ago the Charter of the United Nations was approved.

Today, that fledgling organization of less than 50 members has grown to a world assembly of more than 100 nations, and this week in Livonia special observances will mark the U.N.'s birthday.

Both the League of Women Voters and the Livonia Public Library have made arrangements for commemorating the U.N.'s birthday, the LWV in a written tribute, and the Library with a special display of U.N. books.

Said the League: "The United Nations celebrates its 19th Anniversary on Oct. 24, and it is now apparent that this anniversary falls during a period of political change and possible international insecurity. Nearly every American has given thought—and perhaps engaged in speculation—when Communism China detonated its first nuclear weapon, when Khrushchev was deposed as the Soviet leader, and when the electorate placed a new party at the helm in Britain.

"We are all acutely interested in happenings throughout the world, and we realize how greatly the affairs of foreign countries can affect our lives in the United States. We are no longer isolationists.

"The League of Women Voters, realizing the importance of American foreign policy, and knowing the necessity of being well-informed, has devoted considerable time and energy studying our foreign policy and the role of the United States in the United Nations. The League members have virtually exhausted the innumerable volumes of material written about the U.N. and its activities. Further, the League has investigated the charges and reports that have tended to degrade the United Nations, its purposes and goals.

"Our past two years' hard look at the United Nations, as depicted the United Nations, released a list of available books on the organization. Said our conviction that U.N. financing is a collective responsibility, that peacekeeping efforts should be strengthened. Reaffirmed its support for economic development, a strong Secretary-Generalship, a truly international civil service, greater use of the World Court. New is our agreement in support of the one nation-one vote principle and of negotiating under U.N. aegis to reduce the risk of war.

"We urge everyone's support of the U.N. Celebrate U.N. Day, October 24, 1964!"

The Livonia Public Library, meanwhile, noting that "most people in the United States have only very limited knowledge of what the U.N. has done—and can do."

"In observance of United Nations Week, October 18-24, the Livonia Public Library calls attention to the many available books, pamphlets, and magazine articles on all phases of the U.N. and its widespread activities.

"Recent books about the U.N. include 'The United Nations: Structure for Peace,' by Ernest Gross; 'The United Nations and How It Works,' by David Coyle; 'The U.N. and Its Future,' edited by Robert Theobald; 'Shaping Our Times,' by Harold C. O'Connell; 'U.N.: The First 15 Years,' by Clark Elcheltberger, and 'The General Assembly of the U.N.,' by Sidney Bailey.

"The peace-keeping role of the United Nations is told in 'Peace: The Control of National Power,' by Philip Van Slyke.

"Still another book, 'UNESCO: Assessment and Promise,' by George Schuster outlines the purpose, progress and prospects of the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization.

"The South Branch is located at 3370 Plymouth Road, GA 7-1990 and the Sandburg Branch is at 30100 W. Seven Mile Road, 476-0708. The Livonia Libraries are now open as follows: Monday through Thursday, 12-6; Friday and Saturday, 9-5."

'Fourposter' Opens New Guild Season

The Theatre Guild of Livonia Redford (sponsored by the Adult Education of Livonia Schools) will open their 1964-65 season this Friday, Oct. 23 at 8:30 p.m. with the readings of "The Fourposter." This one night only performance will be staged at Redford Union High and will be followed by a tea and reception in the Green Room.

The readings of "The Fourposter" is a new venture for the Guild. This type of performance has become increasingly popular throughout the United States and it was decided to offer it to the local residents. The performance will be staged in costume with suggestive scenery.

"The Fourposter" is the story of the highlights of 25 years of married life which takes place from 1890 to 1925. Written by Jan DeHalla, the original stage play starred Hume Cronin and Jessica Tandy. The movie version starred Rev Harrison and Lilli Palmer.

The Guild production is directed by Shirley Hulet and stars Moya Toornina and Charles Noel.

Shirley Hulet, a long time member of the Guild, was last seen on stage as Leona in the Guild's last production, "Time of the Cuckoo." She also starred as Rose Lovely in "Destiny Rides Again." In addition, Mrs. Hulet directed the Children's Show, "Beauty and the Beast." Moya Toornina was last seen on stage for the Guild's productions of "The Glass Menagerie" and "Send Me No Flowers." This past year she acted in a scene of "Taming of the Shrew" for the University of Detroit Players Association. Recently she starred in the record of "Blinkie the Clown" which was to be held by the Redford Suburban League.

Charles Noel was last seen in the Guild's "Time of the Cuckoo." He has been active in the Detroit Repertory Theatre and has appeared in "King John" and "Much Ado About Nothing." Within a month he will be seen in University of Detroit Players Association production of "Antigone."

Tickets may be obtained at the door on Friday evening or by calling GA 1-5716. Season tickets (available at 20% savings) for all 8 shows may be obtained by calling GA 7-6383.

50 Appear in Newburg Church 'Show-Nani-Gans'

On Thursday and Friday evening, Oct. 22 and 23, the Newburg Methodist Church choir and women's Society present their "Musical Variety Show called 'Show-Nani-Gans'."

Over 50 creative, and talented showmen and women will be in the cast of "Show-Nani-Gans." You are invited to come and let us entertain you and make you laugh.

Costume time is 8 p.m. at the Newburg Church Hall, Ann Arbor Trail at Newburg Road.

Tickets are $1.00 for adults and 50 cents for children, 12 and under. Sneak previews have reported the show will be a family fun night for those who attend.
