

Detroit Bank Makes Shifts

Two executive vice presidents were named and a shift in top-level executive responsibilities was made by the Board of Directors of Detroit Bank & Trust. Milton J. Drake and William B. Hall have been named executive vice presidents.

The changes were announced at a management meeting in the Bank's new downtown headquarters by Raymond T. Poring, chairman, and Charles H. Hewitt, president of the Bank.

In his new position, Drake will continue to supervise Loans and Investments, even all asset distribution, International Loans and preparation of published reports of the Bank.

Hall assumes overall responsibility for Internal Operations of the Institution including Personnel and Branch Administration.

C. Boyd Stockmeyer, vice president, has been appointed chief loan officer in charge of the Commercial Loan Department. He will serve as Chairman of the Commercial Loan Committee and also is appointed a member of the Bank Investment Committee.

Vice President Burt R. Shurly, Jr., has been appointed a member of the Bank Investment Committee. B. James Theodoroff is appointed chief trust officer in charge of the Trust Department and will serve as an ex-officio member of the Trust Committee.

The Board of Directors also named Charles J. Small, vice president and promoted Gerald L. Heck and William B. Riddle to assistant vice presidents. Small formerly was assistant vice president of the Advertising and Public Relations Department. Heck and Riddle are in the International Relations Department.

Medical Self-Help Class Starts in Livonia

A course in Medical Self-Help, designed to help people survive in the event of a nuclear war or natural disaster, will be held soon in the Emergency Operating Center, Police Administration Building, 15050 Farmington Road, Livonia. It was announced by Mr. W. A. Cooper, Civil Defense Director for Livonia.

This Medical Self-Help Training Course is designed to teach the proper methods of "survival", as well as how to handle emergency medical problems which could happen in any family. Subjects to be taught include radioactive fallout and shelter, artificial respiration, bleeding and bandaging, fractures and splinting, burns, shock, transportation of injured, nursing care, infant and child care, and emergency childbirth.

In addition to this training course, speakers are available wherever it is deemed necessary for local civic organizations, church groups, P.T.A. meetings, etc.

Anyone interested is asked to call Civil Defense Headquarters, GA 1-2000, Ext. 257, between 8:30 and 5 p.m.

Three PHS Seniors Commended

Three Plymouth High seniors have been honored for their performance in the National Merit Scholarship qualifying test given last spring.

Each student, who is endorsed by his or her school, receives a formal Letter of Commendation signed by Principal Carvel Bentley and the president of the National Merit Scholarship Corporation.

Bentley announced that the commended students are: Peter Ackerman, Christopher Rowland and Susan Rybicki.

John Stelaker, president of the National Merit Scholarship Corporation, said:

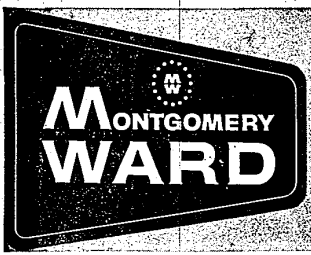

"Although they did not reach the status of semifinalists, they are very capable students. The semifinalists and commended students together constitute about two per cent of all high school seniors. This certainly signifies noteworthy accomplishment by all of these young people."

"We urge the commended students to make every effort to attend college and to develop to the fullest their promise of future achievement. By doing so they will benefit themselves and the nation."

To increase their opportunities to obtain financial assistance if they need it, the Merit Corporation sends the names, home addresses, test scores, and proposed college majors of all commended students to the two colleges they indicated as their first and second choices at the time they took the qualifying test.
