

Arthur Johnson to Screen Film For Livonia Human Relations Group

"Walk in My Shoes" is the title of the ABC-TV produced film documentary to be viewed by the Livonia Citizens for Better Human Relations at its next meeting, Sunday, November 1, at 8 p.m. Guests are welcome to attend the meeting at the Rosedale Gardens Presbyterian Church, West Chicago and Hubbard roads.

Discussion, led by Arthur Johnson, former executive secretary of the Detroit N.A.A.C.P. and at present deputy director of the Michigan Civil Rights Commission, will follow the showing of the film. Refreshments will be served.

All meetings of the L.C.B.H.R. are open to the public. The group seeks to promote good will, understanding and respect for human dignity as well as respect for the law among present and future members of this community regardless of their race, color, religion or national origin. Any interested person who lives or works in the City of Livonia or the Livonia School District may join the organization at a cost of $1.00 dues per year.

I-Act Plays Scheduled

Two one-act plays by two area writers are scheduled for November production in the city of Farmington.

Hawk Graduate
Army PFC Ronald R. Buhner, son of Richard F. Buhner, 14395 Lyons Ave., Livonia, Mich., completed advanced training as a Hawk missile radar crewman at Fort Bliss, Tex., Oct. 23.

These two plays, along with Eugene O'Neill's sea drama, "The Iceman Cometh," will be presented Nov. 20 and 21 in a theater-in-the-round arrangement in the Senior High gymnasium.

Thomas' anthology was presented last spring by the local community theater group, The Farmington Players. Mr. Don Nichols, who saw the production group, The Farmington Players, Mr. Don Nichols, who saw the production at that time, will direct the work again with an all teenage cast.

"Flight" is being produced and directed by its author.

Three young persons in Farmington are playing dual roles in the evening's productions. These include Larry Adcock, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas R. Adcock, Quakertown, Old Homestead; Dave Sidwell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Sidwell, Longacre; and Craig Anderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Anderson of Valleyview.

Two foreign exchange students, Clint Starr, from Australia, who, incidentally played the lead role in the same O'Neill work a year ago in his home country, will appear in "The Iceman Cometh."

Germany will be another sailor in the same play.

Winners of the Farmington Wednesday Night Duplicate Bridge Club at the YMCA were: NS first place, V. Hughes and B. Hawthorne; second place, Sue Fuller and S. Fitzpatrick; third place, S. Elbert and A. Rogerson.

EW first place winners are: Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Wagner, tying for the second spot were: A. Carless and E. Dugan with Pat Bancroft and her visiting father, Robert Albee.

These games are open to all bridge players and are played weekly at the Farmington YMCA on Grand River near Drake Road. No games are on the last Wednesday of every month and the next CMP game is Oct. 28.

The games start at 8 p.m. sharp. Coffee and refreshments are served.

Wayne State University's 6-61 football record in the "Pacents" Athletic Conference in 1962 was the worst for the Tartars since the formation of the conference in 1955.

Club Master Point Games are played on the third Thursday of each month.

The games are held at the Farmington YMCA on Grand River near Drake Road.

All bridge players are welcome and if all that stops you from coming is a partner we will supply one.

Winners for the Oct. 22 game are NS first place: G. Janke and J. Bone; second place: D. Evans and R. Anderson; 3-4 first place: N. Rozell and A. Thomsen; second place: P. Speaker and M. L. Sheehan.

For further information on the program contact Rose Anderson at GR 61767.

OUR LADY OF SORROWS High School won its Homecoming Game, on rows cheer leaders above had plenty to cheer about.

Yoga Position Relieves Tension

The Cobra, demonstrated by Forrest Chaffee of Livonia, when practiced with sufficient slowness of movement stretches each vertebra of the spine. Certain deformities of the spine have been known to be overcome by this technique.

When you reach the ultimate position in the Cobra, the blood is pressed in a gentle natural manner out of the kidneys. When you commence lowering your trunk in coming out of the Cobra posture, the blood flows back into the kidneys, thus providing these essential and very delicate organs with a natural internal flushing.

The Cobra also has positive effects upon the prostate gland in men and upon the entire sympathetic nervous system. The thyroid gland is mildly stimulated as well. The muscles of the back and upper chest are developed by this technique, and the muscles of the abdomen are toned and streamlined. Many persons practice the Cobra immediately upon arriving home after a hard day's work, for they are aware of the Cobra's ability to dispel fatigue. The material for this article was taken from the book "A Handbook of Yoga For Modern Living" by Eugene S. Rawls.

The Detroit Jazz Society has scheduled its autumn sessions each to be conducted by a leading figure in the jazz field. Sessions will include lectures illustrated by recordings or live musical performances. For information call Farmington Township resident Herbert Fine, after 6 p.m., at 476-5265.

Opera Comes To Franklin Knolls

The Franklin Knolls Women's Club is presenting "An Afternoon at the Opera" on Thursday, Nov. 5th, at 12 noon, St. Coleman Church, Middlebelt between 14 and Northwest.

You will meet singers Shirley Zait and Edward Kings, with pianist Lawrence LaGore they will do scenes from La Boheme by Puccini, Die Fledermaus by Strauss, Romeo and Juliet by Verdi. They will answer your questions so if you feel you don't like opera come and find out more about it.

Be on time 12 noon, dessert and coffee being served by 12:30. Hospitality Chairman Almeda Gibbons and committee: Mrs. Wm. Benson, Mrs. Gene Richards, Mrs. Robert Campbell, Jo Wright and Mrs. Walter Lusky.

YMCA Opens Bridge Game Nursery School

A nursery school for 2 to 5 year olds will be held each Thursday in conjunction with the Farmington YMCA Early Birds Duplicate games. A fee of $50 per person will be charged and each child is required to bring a lunch.

The bridge games start at 10 a.m. every Thursday, so arrive early enough to put the preschooler in the nursery and be ready to start playing at 10 a.m. sharp. Bring your own sandwich as coffee and dessert are served.

Club Master Point Games are played on the third Thursday of each month.

The games are held at the Farmington YMCA on Grand River near Drake Road.
