

Clarenceville School News

By MARGARET PAULSON

On Oct. 9 at 7:15 the lighting of the bonfire marked one of the biggest events of the school year at Clarenceville — high school homecoming. At 7:45 the band presented a pre-game show. Five convertibles carrying the court and homecoming candidates for queen followed the band around the football field.

Half-time ceremonies began with the band making an aisle for the queen candidates and the court to walk towards their chairs, meanwhile the band was playing "Sweetheart of Sigma Chi."

Ninth grade representative was Marie LaLonde escorted by Craig McDougal; tenth grade, Marla Harrington escorted by Mike Smith; eleventh grade, Martha Agullar escorted by Bill Harris; Foreign Exchange Student Olivia de la Salas escorted by Student Council President Dan Crosby; and Seniors, one of whom would be selected as queen, Pat Pyle escorted by Chuck Bailey and Judy Woodward escorted by Ron Latimer and the 1963-64 Queen, Linda Stevenson.

It was next announced that this year's voting between the two girls had been the closest in the history of Clarenceville. But there is always a winner and her name was Pat Pyle.

As Pat was crowned the prize winning senior float was drawn up and our "Sweetheart of 69" walked up a red velvet hidden stairway to the center of a huge white heart-shaped float, with the words "Sweetheart of 69" inscribed on it in red.

Next came the junior float comprised of a still and a bag of dynamite pulled by an early 1900 Ford. Third in line, was the sophomore float, which was a submarine being sunk by a torpedo entitled "Sink the Lakers." A flowered covered Trojan horse was shown by the Freshman, while Pep Club had a flowered lollipop—"Lick the Lakers."

Following the game the Student Council put on a dance for the high school students and alumni.

The Spectator staff started the ball rolling by electing Editor: Rolling by electing Editor: Margaret Paulson; news editor, Rhoda Wells; sports, Leslie Swartz; club and social news, Betty Nichols; feature editor, Wayne Strang; assistant, Bill Harris; and editorial, J. C. Sutton.

The main topic of an assembly on Oct. 9 was Junior Achievement. Mike Arthur, a recent graduate of Bentley High School and the national president of J. A. A. spoke and gave out forms for those interested.

The Clarenceville Junior-Senior high band participated in the Columbus Day parade in Detroit on Oct. 11. The band is under the direction of John Nettee and Ted Matlres and was led by drum major Tim Whyte and majorities Debby Shoop and Rhoda Wells. It was awarded second prize of $50 and a trophy, competing against 139 other bands.

Before school closed for summer vacation the student body of the high school elected the officers for Student Council. They were President, Dan Crosby; Vice President, Jack Forsyth; Secretary, Debby Johnson; Treasurer, Judy Ellis. When school reopened in September the home room elected a boy and a girl representative to represent their homeroom in Student Council. They are: Ray Parker, Robert Gardner, Dennis Russo, Wayne Kelbert, Joel Siegel, Pam Gedson, Dave Waack, Shelley Shoop, Pat Johnson, Karen Rille, Marla Munnick, Judy Bass, Esther Roknitsky, Sue Ann Simpson, Lois D'Orazio. Mike Ayotte, John Creswell, Larry Morse, Rev. Boutwell, Cam Nelson, Lynn Kerner, Dan Carr, Linda Harrington, Jerry Petrovsky, Leslie Swartz, Joe Neltroy, Greg Matkovich, Barb Mette, Rhoda Wells, Karen Nelson, J. C. Sutton, Hannah Johnson, John Garrison. An assembly was held in the Junior high gym on Oct. 22. It dealt with the National Aeronautics Space Administration. Guest speaker was Paul Lamkin.

Livonian Finds 'New, Strange World' In Deep Sea Diving Experiences

Mr. Albert Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Wilson, of Livonia, has graduated from the Coastal School of Deep Sea Diving in Oakland, California.

For the preceding thirteen weeks Mr. Wilson has been a student of the Coastal School of Deep Sea Diving, the only commercial diving school in the world.

He learned the techniques of underwater carpentry, use of concrete, underwater, pneumatic tools, underwater welding and burning, rigging, demolition and the use of explosives in marine salvage work.

According to Mr. Wilson, his greatest thrill during the course took place when he successfully descended to a depth of 185 feet. Constant loudspeaker communication was maintained with the surface during the dive. At times, however, Mr. Wilson's voice was almost unintelligible due to the pressure which reacts on the vocal chords to produce a high pitched sound.

Mr. Wilson said he found himself "in a new and strange world." He described a blue-black light prevailing in the "mysterious realm of the deep."

During his future career as a

Invite High School Girls to Preview at Madonna

Senior and junior girls of all parochial and public high schools are invited with their parents to attend College Day, Sunday, Nov. 1, at Madonna College, Livonia.

The entire program will take place in the Student Center at the new building located at Levan road off Schoolcraft. Commencing at 2:30 p.m., high school guests and their parents will have an opportunity to meet the faculty and students to discuss collegiate matters.

At 3 p.m. a program in the East Dining Hall will highlight Mr. Richard W. Wilson, assistant principal of Bentley High school, Livonia. He will speak on higher education in contemporary society. After the program, the visitors will group into sections of local technology, etc. and avail themselves of the opportunity in making inquiries about the curriculum, courses, etc.

Tea and a tour of the new residence halls—Angela, Marian and Regina—the cafeteria and the lounges will conclude the day's schedule.

Everyone is invited without making previous appointments or reservations.

Luter Represents Livonia at Education Conference

Robert Luter, Cooperative Education Coordinator at Franklin High School, represented the Livonia Public Schools at Governor Romney's Conference on education for distribution. The conference held October 20 in Lansing was one of a series called by Governor Romney to consider strategic areas of progress for Michigan. The Governor said:

"As Michigan experiences industrial expansion, it is important that attention be given to the growing need for persons trained in distribution."

John A. Beaumont, representing the U. S. Office of Education, and Dr. Lynn Bartlett, Superintendent of Public Instruction for Michigan, also spoke regarding the importance of education for distribution.

Mr. Wilson has attended Clarenceville High School. His plans are to remain in the field of diving and specialize in underwater construction work.

Thank You to 250,000 Very Fine People

1934! If you're forty or more years old, you remember it as we do. Doubt, gloom, business stagnation everywhere. Yet a small group of local men had faith in Detroit's future. Moreover, they saw the need for an institution to promote thrift, and to economically finance homes. They organized a Federal savings and loan charter, and First Federal Savings of Detroit opened its doors in a small office on West Fort Street in downtown Detroit.

1964! Thirty years later that small beginning has grown to an institution with $550,000,000 in assets; 178,000 insured savers are earning $18,000,000 a year at First Federal through their thrift; 75,000 families have achieved home ownership through First Federal financing; and that small office is succeeded by a soon to be completed 23-story downtown headquarters, and a network of 18 branch offices.

Some kind of magic? Not at all. We're just delighted that over the years a quarter of a million or more Detroit-area folks have joined our Association, profited handsomely while saving safely and conveniently, or benefitted by acquiring homes of their own. We thank them for sharing our faith in our community. And we especially invite you. If you're not one of them, to visit us and ask about our insured savings or home-loan financing services. You'll find our 18 offices listed on page 378 of the Detroit Telephone Directory.
