Bentley, RU Rate One-Two Again

Bentley and Redford Union one-two again in Sub-urban Six League's high school basketball chase! Coach George Fefies at Bentley goes into the 1964-65 season this Friday against Farmington in an Over at Redford Union, Coach Milo Karhu isn't so sure. But, he's not singing the over blues.

Both teams have been hard hit by graduation

Bowman is "the giant of the team."
"I'll grant we have been hard hit," says Coach Fefles. "True, we'll be lacking in experience. And we're not as tall as we were last year or the year before when we also won the league title.
"But I think we will have a quicker team. We should run more and we should get more rebounds off the boards because our fellows will be more agile.

Union, Redford Union Coach Karhu talks in almost similar terms.

Karhu has lost all his 1963-64 starters. Only Al Maehach, who was the team's sixth man and first substitute, is on deck. Al, whose brother Ben starred last year, stands 61.

The rest of the varsity standouts also are on the small side.

small side.

There are Mike McCrea (6-1), Harry Kendrick (5-11), Bob Baumgartner (5-9) and Steve Crane (6-11) along with Orin Newton (5-10 and Lee Bjerke (6-0).

"Yes, we're shy on experience and on size," says Karhu, who takes his team to Southfield this Friday night for the season's opener.

"However, there is an encouraging aspect," the coach added—and he sounded a lot like rival Fefles at Bentley high.

Bentley high. "We'll have more hustle on the team this year. We'll be faster.

"This could help to offset some of our deficien-cies. At least, that's what I'm hoping."

And what about Plymouth, the area's third representative in the Suburban Six League?

And what about Plymouth, the area's third representative in the Suburban Six League?

Coach Charles Ketterer isn't making any predictions But, in his quiet way, Ketterer gives the impression that his Rocks—not rated too high in most early polls—could surprise a lot of folks before the winter.

The Rocks should find out quickly what "the score is" this winter.

They start this Friday against Walled Lake, always a toughte, in the Rocks' gym and then go to Bentley next Friday (Dec. 11) for the league opener.

Ketterer's squad lists seven letterwinners. They are Dave Tidwell (6-2), Jim Lake (6-2), Dave Hollingsworth (6-0), Gary Grady (5-10), John Hannula (5-9).

Up from the reserves are Jim Scharman (6-4), Jim Bruff (6-0), Charles Masten (5-9), Chuck Catlett (6-0), Don Stomper (5-7), John Burgess (6-2), Bill McCall (6-0), Curt Irish (5-10), and Rick Jones (5-10).

What Ketterer likes about his team going into the new season is the attitude of the players.

"These kids give me the feeling they are coming to play," said Ketterer. "We could be a major contender in this race."

Ditto for Redford Union.

JUST ONE BACK, counts Coach George Fefles, of Bentley High, as he discusses practice plans with Fred Matevia, lone holdover from last year's district championship basketball team. Fefles lost nine of the 10 members of the varsity squad via graduation and is starting this eason with Matevia and members of the 1964 junior varsity.

PUTTING ONE WORD AFTER ANOTHER-

POTTING ONE WORD AFTER ANOTHER.—
Lynn Nutter, the very fine athletic director at Clarenceville high school, reports that Tony Giacobazzi, the ex-Clarenceville great who was captain of the 1964 University of lowa football team, has been invited to play both in the North-South and East-West post-season claretic.

Nutter tells us that Tony picked the North-South en-counter which will be played in the Grange Bowl at Miami on Christmas Day.

SPEAKING OF Clarenceville, there's some encouragement for the school's future in football.

The eight-grade junior high gridders went through their 1964 schedule with six straight wins in as many starts. These will be the boys who, a year or two hence, will be turning out for the varsity in the high school.

MORE HONORS came to Franklin high's Bob Bentley last week. No sooner was The Delroit News back on the streets than it announced the halling of Bentley as one of the suburban area's two "football-coaches-of-the-year."

The News selections listed Bentley Tackle Rick Larsen on their all-suburban team while Farmington End Tom Mitchell and Franklin Back Sam Antonazzo were saluted on the News' allarea choices.

Can't banne Farmington's Bud Ericksen if he's not smiling.

Bud works for the Detroit Lions and would enjoy going to Miami for Christmas and New Year's week for the Runner-Up Bowl.

Now it looks like the Lions won't make it.

That's when Farmington tackles North Farmington.
Where does one sit under situations like this?
Coach Quiggle suggests his wife occupy a spot under the basket! He was laughing, of course.

But, the list of the does, she confesses:
"I'll have to cheer for Jack. I've got to go home with him."

SEVERAL OF THE area schools, including Redford Union, Frankin and Plymouth, had representatives on deck at the Detriot Pistons' annual clinic last Saturday.

It was an interesting afternoon with top coches passing along tips to the youngsters who were in attendance.

One of the highlights was the free-throw shooting exhibition staged by members of the Philadelphia 70.

While the objective in every case was the same, the Philadelphia players showed that for each player there is a different way of shooting the ball.

We might add that the 76ers have one of the most able chains the league when it comes to scoring from the charity line.

IN TALKING with the various basketball coaches in the area, we heard one major complaint:
"How come we don't have more boys out, who stand around
