Open House For Parents Slated Oct. 13

Plans for this year's Farmington Senior High Open House, Tuesday evening, October 13, are specifically designed for parents to become acquainted with the students' day of classes and the instruction their children receive. As last year, each parent will receive a copy of his child's schedule and then proceed to the various classes. In previous years, the Open Houses have been held during the month of November. This year, however, the faculty decided that the parents might be more interested in attending the Open House nearer to the actual opening of the school term.

No questions concerning individual problems are to be asked of the teachers because of the time element. Classes will be open for ten minutes each, during which time the teachers will explain generally what it is they do.

Department chairmen and counselors will determine details for the evening and will answer any questions parents may have between classes. The schedule of classes will go approximately like this:

8:00 - 8:10 First Period
8:15 - 8:25 Second Period
8:30 - 8:40 Third Period
8:45 - 8:55 Fourth Period
9:00 - 9:10 Fifth Period
9:15 - 9:25 Sixth Period

No general meeting in the gym will precede or follow the evening's visitation periods this year.

If the picnic area is near a highway or well traveled street, says the Automobile Club of Michigan, make certain your car is parked a safe distance from speeding traffic. Autos parked on the shoulder of the road can be a mental hazard to oncoming drivers whose tendency is to swerve over the center line when passing a vehicle parked close to the highway.

LOCAL RECRUITER Roland C. Steele (left) enlists his brother in Navy to climax 12 years of Navy service. Richard "Ray" Steele was sworn in by LTJG W. D. Carey (right), USN. Mr. and Mrs. Lela Steele of Greenville, Michigan, were present during the swearing in ceremony and were able to see Richard on the train to Great Lakes, Illinois, where he will have nine weeks recruit training and then return home for 14 days leave prior to reporting to one of the Navy's modern schools for advance training.

Farmington YMCA to Conduct Classes in Creative Living

Several interesting and capable personalities are scheduled to conduct classes in Creative Living held at the Farmington Area YMCA.

Those interested in Bridge will be pleased to know that Cliff Bishop will teach beginners and advanced bridge with duplicate and supervised play. Bishop has devoted his life to this fascinating game and spends all of his time in the instruction aspect of it.

Mrs. Betty Brown, president of the Farmington Garden Club, will lead a demonstration in Flower Arranging. Those attending will be inspired by this vivacious person to creations beyond description. The last two classes will be devoted to Christmas Arrangements.

A new experiment in a Men's Chorus will find Don Otto, a Farmington music man, at the helm. Otto has conducted choir and choral groups of adults and young people and will bring much to this exciting activity.

Men from all walks of life can find enjoyment in barbering, haircut or good choral music.

FURCRAFT will enable the modern woman to create a lovely fur piece through a program of design and processing. The old fur coat can become a choice garment with the capable instruction of Mrs. Helen Hunter. Having taught many such classes, Mrs. Hunter has consented to teach this Tuesday afternoon class in her already busy teaching schedule.

Mrs. Barbara Brunk will show you how to use old woolen material to create a beautiful Hooked Rug. A local resident, Mrs. Brunk has spent much of her spare time in the pursuit of this hobby.

For community leaders of all types of clubs and groups, a specially designed course in Leadership Development is being coordinated by A. Charles Wise, local YMCA director. Goal setting, decision making, communication, duties and responsibilities of officers, and group dynamics. Mr. Wise will tailor the course to meet the needs of the participants.

Mrs. Austin of Ye Olde Knit Shoppe will handle a class in the art of knitting. She has taught at J. L. Hudson's and of course has spent much of her own time in pursuing this craft.

CREATIVE THEATER will offer those with theatrical aspirations a chance to know Mrs. Hope Nalstoll. Her experience with the Farmington Players and associated groups enables her to do a fine job in showing people the techniques of the theater.

For teens (15, 16, 17) and adults, Larry Palmer will conduct several classes in Auto Driving. Palmer represents Celtic Enterprises and has been duly trained and certified by the State Department of Public Instruction. Both day and night classes will be held.

Mrs. Dorothy Carpenter and Mrs. Nancy Mitchell will head a group of Hat Makers. They will be working with all sorts of materials and will be helping the participants to create a hat to match their personality.

Mrs. Carpenter is owner and operator of the De Ance Millinery Shop.

HOLIDAY DECORATIONS will offer many fascinating

Five in Honors College at MSU

Farmington Senior High boasts five former students in Michigan State University's Honors College. These five graduates are Richard Kirsten, Carol Olfelt, Day Radebaugh, Sara Shaw, all from the Class of '62.

High scholastic attainment — a 3.5 or better average — qualified Farmington's alumni for this distinction.

Each Honors College student is assigned a faculty advisor in his or her field to aid in planning out appropriate study program. Usual rules and prerequisites for courses are dropped and the students work at their own speed. This gives the students a chance to work as rapidly as possible and at their maximum efficiency.

Members of the College are permitted to use the library with graduate privileges.
