

Cub Pack 48 'Holds 1st Meet

Pack 48 held its first monthly meeting of this scouting year on October 16 at Bond School. The opening ceremony of the meeting of the flag and the pledge of the flag was led by Marge Gluckstein playing the Star Spangled Banner for the group to sing.

The first business of the scout year was a thorough inspection of uniforms and the Cub Scouts were urged to comply with all regulations and regularly attend each meeting with their parents so that their Den might win a perfect attendance ribbon (den 5, 8 and the Webelos Den were this month's winners).

Cub master Bob Murray greeted the new Bob Cubs and inducted them into the Pack with the Lighted Arrow Ceremony of Akela, which lights the way to good scouting. The new Cub Scouts were: Jeff Seedorf, Bob Warner, Steve Parker, Terry 4-out, Bob Dodi, Steve Rind, Jeff Leighton, Michael Majeski, William Rogers, Charles Kapernaros, Craig Trufel, Mark Kalman, John Swick, Thomas Benjamin, Greg Witte and Lewis Mitchell.

Aditional awards of the night were: Wolf Badge to Brian Albertson and Steven Kalman; Lion Badges to James Ackrady, Keith Curme, and Larry Kalman; and a Gold Arrow award to Floyd Bennett and Gold and Silver Arrow awards to Tom Bolin and Craig Kilner.

Wood Creek Village

ANNE M. PHILLIPS

MA. 6-6335

There certainly is a population explosion in Wood Creek. Seventy junior Woodcreekers' reservations were made for the fallow party last Saturday. They gathered about 4:30 p.m. with a Tyghem truck for transportation — at Westmont Court. They were divided into groups, the pre-schoolers, the 6 to 10 year olds and the teens. The first event was the parade and judging of costumes. The winners, which was done by Bob Champagne, Paul Boel, Stefan Habsburg and Bill Brown were really very difficult to choose. It was finally broken down into the following categories with these prize winners:

Group 1 (Fanciest) Kitten Louelle and Christa Boel French maids, (Spookiest) Lauri Perry-ghost, (Funniest) Billy Brown-clown;

Group 2 (Fanciest) Jenny Gordon, princess, (Spookiest) Ricky By-witch doctor, (Funniest) Barb Zahner-ghost; and GROUP 3 (Fanciest) Brian Albertson - h.o.b.o, (Spookiest) Greg Boucher-mummy, and (Funniest) Chris Ambrose - scarecrow.

The bonfire was built in the circle in Westmont Court and it was started quite early as it cooked off fast as soon as the sun went down. Cider and lounghuts were there by the fire for cheer too.

Ben and Bev Ludwig offered their barn for the Spook show. Ben decorated it with the help of teenagers. Pat de Coke was he witch and older children were ghosts and spooks. Then there were special games and activities which included apple popping, pie eating and a pumpkin Pinata.

Bed time came all too soon for the younger groups but some 21 teenagers then gathered at the Ludwig's barn for a Weiner roast and lots of fun. Thanks to the excellent planning by so many parents and lots of work, this will be a "allove'n long to be remembered—and probably repeated.

MARY LAM is now in Chimbo, Peru. This is on the coast north of Lima. Ten years ago the population was 5000—now it is 100,000. Here is Peru's one steel mill, but the main industry which has caused this tremendous growth is fish meal. Mary's work is community development. I'm sure you can see there is a big field for that work. Mary, with her partner—the Peace Corps' girls always work in pairs—now live in the home of an Adventist lay minister. He has 5 children ranging in age from 9 to 19—a busy household. Water is a big problem there but this minister has the one well in the neighborhood. He sells water at 1 cent a gallon which is carried away loaded on burrows.

My Neighbors

"Please, I'm not a candidate!"

Apartment dwellers, let's talk about moving.

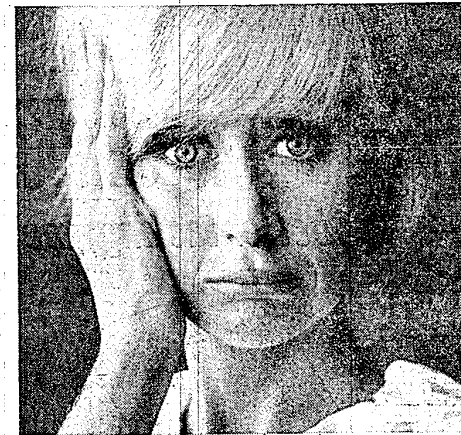

An apartment is different from a house, right? Right!

Apartments usually have narrow halls and stairways and tight little nooks and crannies, right? Right!

So if you're moving in or out of an apartment you need a mover who knows all the ins and outs, right? Right!

But all movers are just about the same, right? Wrong!

Not all movers know the ins and outs of apartments the way they should. Over half the people we move are apartment dwellers, so we've developed special "Apartment House Crews." These men are specially trained in getting furniture in and out of narrow hallways and down confining stairways. With their ability they can work faster, and thus save you money. They even have special equipment to help them out. Equipment like hand trucks with clinging treads that creep down stairs and save your furniture from getting bumped and thumped around. So if you're planning to move in or out of an apartment, give us a call. Let's talk.
