Janet Juhnke Is Bride

Janet Grace Juhnke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Juhnke of Brittany Hill Drive, Farmington, became the bride of Robert Leonardis in an evening ceremony June 29.

The vows were spoken in the Trinity United Methodist Church, Detroit, with the Rev. Bert Hosking officiating.

Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Leonardis of Long Beach, Calif., are the bridegroom's parents.

The bride, given in marriage by her father wore a candlelight satin organza gown with modified empire waistline, lantern sleeves and a high neckline.

Re-embroidered alencon lace trimmed the bodice and fashioned the Juliet cap that held the bride's veil. Her Victorian bouquet was of violets, eucharist lilies, stephanotis and white sweetheart roses.

Three attendants wore print dresses of rose and lavender organza with contrasting cummerbunds. Their flowers were violets, tropicals, sweetheart roses and lavender and pink candytuft.

Mrs. Nadine Jagunich of Novi was matron of honor and the bridesmaids were Mrs. Martha Abdo of Berkeley and Mrs. Kay Dudek of Lake Orion.

William Juhnke of Farmington was best man and the ushers were Robert Conte of Livonia and Dennis Sullivan of Brighton.

The reception was held in the Shennadoh Country club.

The couple's wedding trip bride is a graduate of Alma College and teaches in the Waterford School District.

Farmington AAUW Collecting Sale Books

Books are your friends; enjoy them but don't destroy them!

The advice comes from the Farmington branch of the American Association of University Women, preparing for its annual book sale in the Livonia Mall Sept. 27 to 29.

Proceeds from the sale are donated each year to the Farmington library and to a fellowship fund set up by the AAUW to provide financial assistance to women scholars continuing graduate studies.

Books of all kinds are well come—hard cover, paperback, text books, fictions, sets of encyclopedias, do-it-yourself books, children's books, cookbooks and National Geographic magazines.

Old and rare books will be sold at a special auction.

Barrels for depositing donated books are located in several supermarkets, and books also may be taken to either of the two Farmington Library branches.

The supermarkets are Chatham at 11 Mile and Middle Bell, Wigley's at 13 Mile and Orchard Lake Road, A & P in downtown Farmington, Kroger's at the Farmington plaza, Farmer Jack's in the Kendallwood center and Farmer Jack's at Maple and Orchard Lake Road.

The library branches are located on Farmington Road south of Grand River and on 12 Mile east of Farmington Road.

AAUW members also will pick up books from homes. Those needing transportation for books may call Mrs. Ernest Gaston, 2530 Ravine, Southfield, or Mrs. Robert Briggs, 21615 Oxford, Farmington.
