

THAT'S THE IDEA!

THAT'S THE IDEA ALL RIGHT ... Poor Harry, just because he's six feet two in his rather damp stocking feet, it's no reason to suffer with a puny camper. He can sell it with an Observer Want Ad! A quick call to one of our pleasant Observer Ad Takers will put cash in Harry's pocket—probably enough to make a down payment on that super-duper snazzy camper he's always wanted. In fact if he checked around the attic and garage he could undoubtedly find some other things he's not using and make his down payment all the more hefty.

If you're planning a camping trip and need cash for the camper OR the trip, why not get your hands on some extra cash with an Observer Want Ad? And save this ad—it'll keep the kids busy coloring while you drive
