JAMES A. THOMAS of Plymouth has been named corporate director of manufacturing, general and peripheral products, for Burroughs Corporation. He will be responsible for planning, evaluating and assisting equipment manufacturing operations throughout the corporation. Thomas joined Burroughs as a field engineering trainee in his native Johnstown, Pennsylvania, in 1948, and has held several management positions in both design and production of equipment. He holds a bachelor's degree in electrical engineering and a master's in business administration.

JOHN HALLER of Michigan Powdered Metal Products of Livonia inspects a part made on a compacting press of his design at the plant. Haller received a "powder metallurgy pioneer award" from the Metal Powder Industries Federation at a recent conference in Canada. He was honored for original contributions in design and manufacture of products from metal powder for use in the automotive and appliance industries. Haller formed his own company in Northville in 1945 and sold the firm to Federat-Mogul Corp. in 1964, becoming technical advisor and director of the company's Haller Research Center. He retired in 1970, but is still a major stockholder in the Livonia company.

Konstant Joins Thunderline Royale Firm Ups Sullivan

Eugene R. Konstant, 27630 Echo Valley, Farmington, has been named director of organizational development and training for Royale Real Estate Co. of Macomb County.

Konstant was formerly the vice president of business management at Marketing Institute in Detroit.

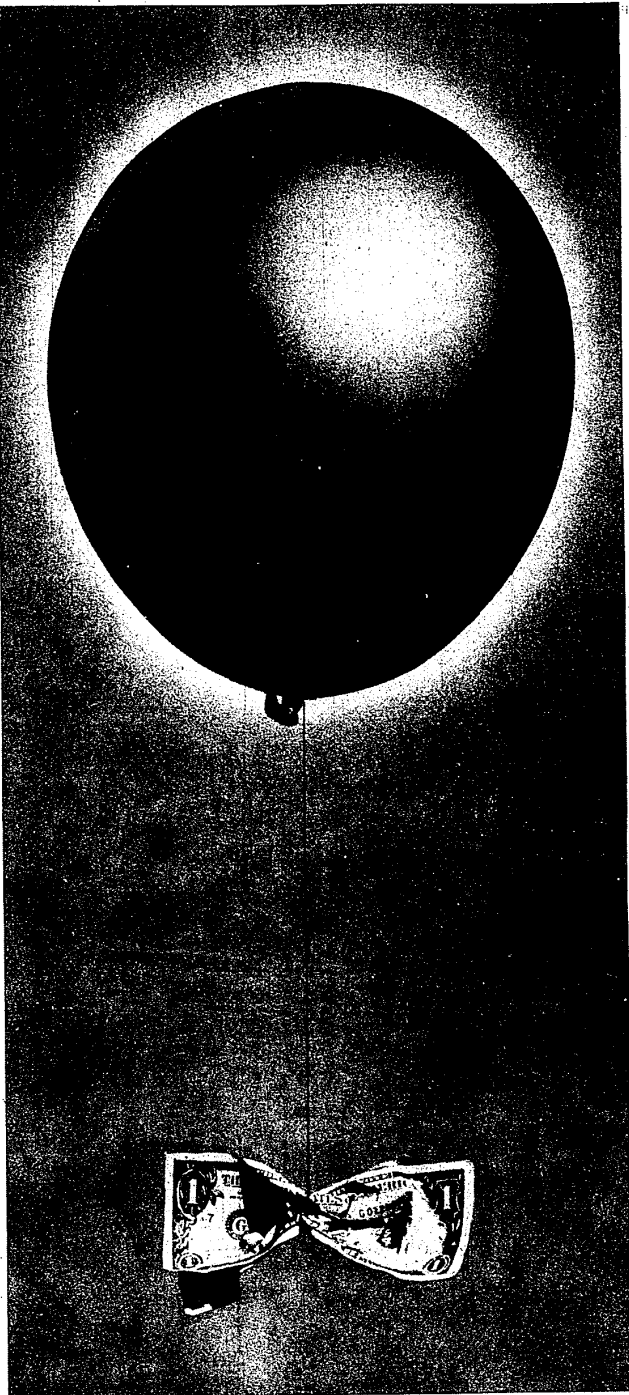

Konstant will serve as an internal training and development consultant to the used home real estate company and its affiliated businesses, and will develop outside clients on a consulting relationship.

Thunderline Corp. has named a Plymouth man as product sales manager, a newly created position.

Kenneth N. Sullivan, 32, is expected to supplement company programs in advertising, new application knowledge, field training, seminar and technical society communications.

Before assuming his full range of duties, Sullivan will undergo an extensive orientation and product knowledge program.

Sullivan lives at 39718 Suzanne Court.

Don't let these precious dollars escape. Insulate your home and reduce your heating and cooling costs. Insulation acts as a barrier to the flow of heat. Keeps heat in during the winter and keeps heat out during the summer. By cutting fuel consumption, it could reduce your heating bills as much as one-third.

Another advantage, which cannot be measured in monetary value, is the added comfort insulation provides. You'll enjoy a quieter home...insulation keeps outside noises out and absorbs inside sounds. And you'll be more comfortable, summer and winter, with a more uniform temperature throughout your home.

Stop the needless loss of money...call a qualified insulation dealer, now. Enjoy a cooler summer and be ready for added savings and comfort next winter. Consumers Power Company neither sells nor installs insulation, but has long recommended it for greater comfort and economy.
