Hazel and Bob Young flew to Kokomo, Indiana, Palm Sunday weekend, but due to the tornado, they had to take the train home. Fortunately, their daughter, son-in-law, and two grandchildren were unhurt by the storm. The tornado touched down only a couple of blocks away. They are without electricity, but that is their only inconvenience. Bob will go down to Kokomo to pick up the plane which was not damaged by the storm.

MR. AND MRS. GILLEN, who live with their daughter, Ginny Robb, came home from Florida a couple of weeks ago. The Gillens had been down south since the beginning of the year.

Sheryl Homier, Betsy Naudman, Erik Palmer, Meredith Ramsey, and Sally Wilson joined the Orchard Methodist Church on Palm Sunday.

Jean Denaro had a wonderful day at the Bel-Aire Bowling alleys last week. She rolled 173, 198, and 201. This set a league record for individual high, 572. It was also the first 200 plus that she bowled this year.

Hear About Youth Needs

Special guests at the monthly meeting of the General Citizens' Youth Guidance Committee of Greater Farmington were Harold Weis and Donald Kern.

Weis, who is on the staff of Children's Hospital, was instrumental in developing the Highland Park Child Development Clinic in 1958. Kern is director of the Oakland County Child Guidance Clinic.

BOTH MEN stressed the ideas that the needs of youth demand a positive and adequate youth guidance program. If these programs are to be successful they must have enthusiastic support from the citizens of the local community.

New representatives present at this meeting were: Susan Manche and Jean Boston, J.C.C. Auxiliary; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Kleis, Farmington P.T.A. Council; Margaret Morris, Y.M.C.A.; and A. Blawis, Suburban B'nai B'rith Chapter.

LADIES STEP FORWARD

NEW! CURLY TREND FROM PARIS

Windblown curls, capricious curves and giddy masses of froth characterized "France," the aptly named Spring/Summer coiffure trend introduced recently by the Haute Coiffure Francaise. This giv' Parisian style housse will find immediate acceptance in this country, for its detail is youthful and highly flattering. In short, a completely beguiling fashion.

"France" is short, no doubt about it, and there's not a straight tendril to be seen. The nonsense bangs, or some sort of forehead frill, are a trend-mark.

Perms are important to maintain its curly charm and color will enhance all variations.

Farmington Area PTA Council To Host April 28 Meeting Here

All those interested in the Oakland County research project on the three teaching methods of reading, will have an opportunity to hear it explained at the next Farmington Area PTA Council meeting. The meeting will be held April 28, at the Farmington Senior High School, 32000 Shawansee, at 8 p.m.

Miss Minnie Zeilke, Director of Elementary Education for Farmington School District, and the first grade teachers from Longacre, Ten Mile and Shawansee who are participating in the experiment, will explain the program and answer questions concerning the methods they are using.

Kiwanis Club Hosts Student Gov't Day Fete

The Farmington Kiwanis Club hosted the Student Government Day Dinner last Tuesday evening in Bolford. Some 24 students, their advisors and City officials took part in the program climaxing Student Government Day.

Farmington City Manager John Dinan introduced the city officials and their student counterparts. The students spoke a few words about their experience, generally expressing approval of the way that the City is being run and appreciation for the opportunity to serve in their government for a day.

MAYOR SANDY Brotherton summarized and then awarded the student mayor a gavel and the other students certificates.

The Farmington Kiwanis Club has sponsored "Student Government Day" for several years.

Board of Renew Educational TV Prog.

The Farmington Board of Education on April 12, renewed the school district's membership in MPATI (Midwest Program of Airborne Television Instruction), for $819.40 per year. The board also approved the addition of a wassaw, Karbrook and Bond schools at $100 each.

Supt. Harrison reported that the district has an active committee on educational television. He said that MPATI is the outstanding educational TV in the country, and is by far the largest.

Channel 56 is used a great deal in the Farmington schools, Harrison said. A program is published every month and classes view selected programs pertaining to their classroom instruction.
