Use Care in Tree Planting

BY BOB LEE
Of Aldrich's Nursery

Purchase tree from reliable nursery-freshly dug.

Exercise care in transporting and handling.

Keep roots covered and moist at all times.

Prune back branches to compensate for root loss.

Prepare hole plenty large to allow for root spread.

Use good soil around roots and water to firm the soil.

Plant same depth at which tree was grown.

Form depression or cup to hold water.

Wrap tree for the first year to prevent it from sun scalding.

A newly planted tree needs water, regular cultivation and mulching. New roots can form only when sufficient moisture is present in the soil. Keep the top layer of soil loose and give the roots a good soaking once a week. Water the tree with a slow stream of water to allow all the water to soak into the ground.

Kenbrook Pupils Stage "Macbeth"

Kenbrook Grade School's production of Shakespeare's "Macbeth" may have used the youngest cast on record, when Mrs. Marlin Angelo's fifth grade class performed last March.

"Macbeth," difficult at any age level, was, according to Kenbrook's principal Mr. Jack Cleveland, "extremely well done and well received."

"THE TEN-YEAR-OLDS," he said, "put on a tremendous production and had a lot of fun doing it." He added that the children made their own scenery and helped their parents with the costumes.

The production was part of a package which included a number of "Old English Songs" that preceded the play. Mrs. A. Adelman, music consultant, assisted Mrs. Angelo and directed the musical score for the songs.

THE IDEA FOR the production was taken from a magazine article, found in the school library, which was edited to fit the stage. The language and set directions, however, were the same.

There were 33 students, all members of Mrs. Angelo's class, who participated in either the play or the musical.

"Macbeth" was played by Percy Sandquist and Lady Macbeth by Ruth Nye.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Williams of Redford Township announce the engagement of their daughter, Ruth Ann, to Timothy J. Hawkins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Grant Hawkins of Farmington. A November wedding date is set.
