

This Is Kimberley

BY VERA R. KERASTAS

With winter so reluctant to say goodbye to us, we can get a hint of the warm weather to come by hearing from the vacationers who went south.

The Howard's of Pipers Lane, Don, Kathy, and children, left our blizzard of April 1 for a two-week trailer camping trip near West Palm Beach, Don's family came from New Jersey to visit his brother who resides in West Palm Beach at this same time, making for a dandy family reunion. As they entered their camping site which was a game preserve, the Howard's read, "Caution—low flying eagles." Although they saw an eagle sitting in its nest, they encountered no difficulties.

TAKING ADVANTAGE of the Easter holidays, the Gus Heuer family also traveled to Florida for a wonderful 12-day interlude where they revelled in the summer weather. The Werner Jean's flew even further south to visit Helen's sister in Puerto Rico. Their acceptance by the natives, the glorious weather, and the family reunion made this a delightful journey.

Statistically speaking, Americans are moving families. Here in Kimberley, we seem to follow the national trend. April 30 was moving day for the McFaneys of Wicklow Rd. With Douglas, 3½, and Steven, 1½, they flew Friday evening to Compton, California which is in the Los Angeles area. Vern's new position is with the Pacific Industrial Engineers who deal with water pollution equipment. Although sorry to leave their family friends here, Vern, former president of Beechview Swim Club, and Peggy, an active member of the League of Women Voters, are looking forward to being near both their families and the new opportunities of a new life.

Here are a couple of end-of-the-season bowling notes: The Treasure House, a sponsored bowling team, won first place at the Country Lanes Bowling last week. Captain John Bowlick, Dick Smith, Jerry Kowalski, Don Zullo, Stan Wilkins and Bob Amundson each won an individual trophy and the big trophy is proudly on display at the Treasure House. The Kimberley A.M.E.'s invited their husbands to their bowling banquet held April 24 at the Frontier Inn. The lucky first-place team winners who have trophies to decorate their mantels are Jo Olson, Beverly Duda, Peggy Luksey, and Carol Moore. Congratulations to Linda Erickson, the ten-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bud Erickson, of Wicklow, who swam in the Michigan State A.A.U. Junior Olympic Championships April 10. Linda won a sixth place ribbon in the 10 year and under 50-meter free-style and a first place gold medal for being a member of the Maple Swim Club free-style relay.

JUNIOR GIRL Scout Troop No. 688 entertained Troop No. 430 with a court of awards and an interesting fire safety talk by Sgt. Jay Harrison of the Farmington Police. Not only was the program educational but, in addition, most of the girls earned their sign of Star.

On January 23, 1965, Lori Zolotoff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Zolotoff of Pipers Lane, was married to Mr. Stephen Hack at the First Presbyterian Church of Dearborn. A reception followed the ceremony at Dearborn Inn where the guests were entertained by two wandering minstrels. To make it a family affair, her twin sister Shirley Pfaffman was her matron-of-honor, her brother-in-law, George, was an usher, and her niece, Lori, was the flower girl. The newlyweds flew to England for their honeymoon, spending some time in Southampton, even seeing the preparations for Churchill's funeral. Mr. Hack then continued around the world on a flying business trip for Ford International, while the bride returned to her duties at Antelope Division. Presently they reside at Dearborn Towers.

Alta Loma Dinner Dance Set May 15

The Entertainment Committee of the Alta Loma Homeowners Association invites all Alta Loma residents and their friends to officially welcome Spring at the Dinner-Dance on Saturday, May 15, 7 p.m. at Frontier Town Hall in Farmington.

You'll dance to the music of the Jimmy Kent Quartette.

The following neighbors are assisting Chairman Bud Hogg to assure everyone attending a thoroughly enjoyable evening: Tom and Thelma Jayroe, Frank and Audrey Murtland, Archie and Jean Long, Russ and Evelyn Milligan, Bob and Marilyn Fink, North and Elsa Graves, George and Betty Lindsays, Gene and Peg Henderson, Mary Hoggberg, Lou and Eleanor Doyle, Howard and Marjorie Perry, Bob and Dot Kostuck, Mike and Janet Blew, Pete and Ann Stoefel, Paul and Nancy Gelatin, John and Shirley Richards, Ed and Ruth Miller, Harry and Betty Bock, Steve and Madeline Long, Paul and Helen Chuga, and Sam and Ethel Begian.

Early reservations will help the Planning Committee present a well organized party. Call Mike and Janet Blew, 474-7837, or Bob and Dot Kostuck, 476-4757, now.

L.F. Brayton Named Mgr. Of Detroit Edison

L. Frederick Brayton of 33953 Schulte Avenue, Farmington, has been named manager of Detroit Edison's Farmington office, succeeding Harley B. Walters who retired April 1.

Mr. Brayton joined the Edison Company's sales department in 1931 as a customer of office representative and has filled a number of customer service and sales promotion posts. He was assigned to the company's Oakland Division late in 1955, and has been active in the Farmington Exchange Elks club. A native of Seattle, Washington, Mr. Brayton moved to the Detroit area as a young boy. He and his wife, Flora, have been Farmington residents since 1960. They have three sons—Robert, of Livonia; Donald; and Thomas.

OLD HOMESTEAD

By SHIRLEY BERGER GR 6-3308

If this column has a slight scent of magnolias about it this week, it's because so many Old Homesteaders have just returned from the South where, Mary Pheneys says, magnolias were just beginning to bloom. She and John took an Easter trip to visit son Johnny who will graduate this month from Fork Union Military Academy where he has been backstopper on their championship swim team. They also used the opportunity to see many of the Civil War battlefields as John is an ardent student of that era of American history.

DAVE AND DOROTHY Kall went farther south and spent several days at Sea Island, Georgia, then drove home via the Skyline Drive stopping first for a day in Savannah, a day in Charleston, and another in Richmond. Their trip lasted for ten days.

Mrs. Harry Lippman spent three weeks in Florida dividing her time between Ft. Lauderdale, Miami, and Sarasota, and didn't have a day of bad weather. She has very recently leased an apartment over in Redford Township on Garfield Avenue as her home on Padelford Rd. has been sold, and she expects to move within a month or so.

TAKING OFF in the opposite direction, the Ken Humms drove up North to their cottage on Little Bear Lake near Lewiston for Sherry's eleventh birthday. Dad cooked steaks outside to go with the birthday cake, and the cottage was officially opened for the season. There was another family party on Easter Day with Ken's family in attendance.

Tom Quine observed his twentieth birthday with no special fanfare, but then twenty is that kind of an age. Next year is the big one.

BARBARA NORTH'S eighth fell on the day before Easter; so, since Lee's family were coming for Easter dinner, her party was held on Friday. Games and supper were enjoyed by Ricky and Betty Bouffard, Robin Brack, Kim Oddo, Brad Shose, and Tammy Dorow.

Lou and Mary Toftoff celebrated ten years of wedded bliss by dining out and dancing. Little Lisa wondered why she wasn't invited to the party, so they had an extra "company" dinner with her and baby Paul at home.

Mary was a double winner at the last meeting of the subdivision pinocchio club with a consolation prize for her playing as well as a door prize which was an attractive pin. Instead of their usual type of home gathering, the ladies all joined the Women of Kendallwood Farms at their Spring Tonic Card Party whose proceeds went to aid the Plymouth State Home and Training School.

IT WAS ANNIVERSARY time for Iain and Alice Scott, too. They observed theirs by attending the Fisher Theater where "Barefoot in the Park" was playing.

PAUL Gruenwald invited some of her school chums over for a birthday luncheon. It was her eleventh, and she was especially thrilled with her parents' gift of a wristwatch.

For his eighth birthday, Mike Ross shared two cakes with his grandmother who was seventy-five, so seventeen members of the Ross clan came out to congratulate her and spend the afternoon. Then when his own birthday arrived two days later, Mike was allowed to choose his favorite dinner and have candies on the cherry pie.

Tom Franklin's family treated him and some friends to "Mary Poppins" and dinner on his ninth birthday.

BETH BABINGTON'S seventh birthday was part of the Easter festivities. Her grandparents, grandma, aunt, uncle, and baby cousin joined the family for dinner.
