Wins Oratory Contest May 4

Tuesday, May 4, the regional forensics contest was held at Dearborn High School. Representing North Farmington, Cathy Glessner placed first in Original Oratory. Her winning speech emphasized the fact that today's educational system teaches students "how to make a living but not how to live a life."

Other orations treated subjects which included "Civil Rights," "The Apathy of Today's Society," "Courage," and "The Morality of Today's Teenagers."

In Humorous Reading, David Frank and Sandie Haviland performed extremely well, but were not as successful as Cathy.

Their competition included readings from "Cyrano de Bergerac," "Rally 'Round the Flag, Boys," and "Huckleberry Finn" (which won first place). The second place reading was a satirical selection about Lady Godiva.

For her first place in the regional contest, Cathy was awarded a plaque from the University of Michigan and a chance to compete at the first state forensics contest at Ann Arbor on May 15.
