

Sorrows News Briefs

BY CAROLYN SIDLOSKY GR. 4-7845
 After an exciting campaign, and highly commendable speeches, Sorrows students were notified as to their new Student Council leaders to be. Our new president is Jim Korte; vice-president, Tony Tucker; recording secretary, Rita Walker; correspondence secretary, Cynthia Wasick; and treasurer, Kathy Rayle. Congratulations to them and to all who ran for their sacrifice and school spirit.
THE FUTURE NURSES wound up a successful year with one of their biggest end-of-the-year events, induction. Top-ranking girls received their pins for exceptionally active duty in the all-purpose May 12. The program consisted of Commemoration to Florence Nightingale, a guest speaker on Medical Technology, a film on Cancer and displays of all the nurses uniforms of schools in the area.
FUTURE TEACHERS recently wound up their year with election of officers and party. New officers are Nancy McCunney, president; Pat Connolly, vice-president; Carolyn Sidlosky, secretary; Beverly Esper, treasurer; Mary Phillips, parliamentarian; and Rita Walker, historian. The Future Teachers are proud of their record membership this year and are looking forward to a successful year next year. We wish to thank Sister Michaela for sponsoring the FTC during the year.

Home In Old Homestead

BY SHIRLEY BERGER GR. 6-3308
 It has been quite some time since the stork stopped off at Old Homestead, but on Friday, April 30, he did pay a call, and Sue and Dick Letimer became the parents of a girl, Peggy Lynn. Congratulations to all the Letimers.
 There are some other newcomers to the subdivision, also. Four new families have recently moved in. The Weldmans' former house is now occupied by Frank and Eill Fabok and their daughter Blig-it who is four. They formerly lived in Pontiac.
OVEN AT THE GOWRACZ house, Ed and Miriam Nor-born are now residing as the new owners. Ed is a Detroiter who Miriam has lived in the township for quite a few years.

 Beck's have the brand new house on Quakerstown. The family consists of Jerrold, Donna, Kimberlee who is seven, and Dwain who is three, plus Jerrold's aquaria full of fish, numerous unknown.
UP ON THE KNOLL on Eleven Mile Road, the Lundquists have arrived. They are Harold and Jo and their son Len who is sixteen; another married son lives in California. They came to Farmington from Redford Township.
 Mary Checchetti reports that the American newspaper photographer mentioned in Detroit papers recently as wounded in Santo Domingo is her cousin, Doug Kennedy. Mary has some exciting anecdotes about his colorful career, and the family are all hoping that he will recover in time for his scheduled June marriage.
 Mary took Greg and Eric to Pontiac the other day to meet their special hero, Bozo the Clown. He talked with them and gave them his autograph. They saw an uproarious show and had free rides on a miniature train.
JOHN AND MARY PREST got into their new Camp Wagon with Karen, Mike, Norma, and Nancy and headed South for three dreary weeks. They went as far as Maratzen in Mexico via Monterrey and Durango where they were served by John Wayne's waiter, and traveled over the hair-raising Devil's Backbone which drops off a sheer 2000 feet at its edge. They ventured into the surf when the breakers were an amazing twenty-five feet high, and coming back they stopped at Boulder Dam, Las Vegas, and The Caverns. Part of the time, they were traveling just ahead of a sandstorm but managed to outrun it.

MRS. ELTON ECKERLY, Jack's mother who lives with Jack and Mary Ann, has just returned from a six-week tour of the Southwest. She drove her own car, accompanied by a good friend from Warren, a total of 7000 trouble-free miles. They visited Ft. Worth, Dallas, Tucson, and Phoenix. The desert was in bloom, a rare and lovely sight. They went on to San Diego and Los Angeles, came back by way of Las Vegas, Hoover Dam, Grand Canyon, and the Painted Desert; at Vegas, they saw Jack.

For the William Copelands, of East Detroit, picking out a new car involved nothing but happy decisions. Make, model, color, upholstery—and never a thought of money, because Bill Copeland already knew where the money was coming from. He's been a checking account customer at our Grand River-Joy Road office for 16 years. As a businessman (insurance) Bill knew he'd save by financing at our low bank rates; and he knew his dealer could arrange the loan by simply phoning us. Just as your dealer can. Why not concentrate on the fun side of car buying? With one of our 66 offices so near and so ready to serve, money's no problem.
