

YMCA to Open Swim Classes

The Farmington Area YMCA Backyard Pool Instruction Program is due to get off with a bang on June 21 with over 15 pools available for swimming instruction.

Through the generosity of Farmington and Livonia residents, swimming instruction is being provided through the efforts of the local YMCA. Once a week for eight weeks, over 250 boys and girls and women will be engaged in a fine program of water safety and survival.

GIVING LEADERSHIP to this program, as the itinerant instructors, are Mrs. Roger Lancina and Mr. Clayton Rumble, both Farmington residents. Mrs. Lancina has many years of experience, good background and a deep interest in young people. Clayton has excelled in swimming and gymnastics in his school at North Farmington High.

Even though over 75 are now registered there is room for many more who would like to take advantage of this excellent opportunity. The four dollar fee (plus YMCA Membership) will provide a life long skill.

RESIDENTS WHO are offering their pools include Mr. E. Kadushin of 3231 Queenboro; Mr. John Buchan of 28715 Kendallwood; The Karmans of 29239 Aranel; Mr. Bernard Kahn of 29545 Sugar Spring; Mr. Herman Rader of 27800 Old Colony; Mr. Bill Morgan of 30505 Paddelford; Mr. G. H. Muller of 26205 Kiltaron; Mr. Louis H. Baird of 32594 Shady Ridge; Mr. Richard Bonis of 29062 Wildwood Tr.; Mr. C. W. Fritz of 28251 Wildwood Trail; Mr. Albert A. Holman of 27590 Spring Valley; Mr. Robert Leander of 34051 W. Nine Mile Rd.; Mr. G. G. Barton of 14581 Bredin Ct., Livonia; Mr. Leo Peterson of 30850 Lyndon Ct., Livonia; Mr. Allen Hays of 28037 Greenwillow; Mr. Norman White of 32860 Ardwick; and Mr. John S. Vanzandt of 31740 Wayburn.

Their interest and contributions to this program is immeasurable. "Water proof your family with the YMCA by calling 474-3232. You may also register by coming to the Y on Grand River east of Drake. Pre-registration is a must because the classes are limited to ten an hour."

YMCA Day Camp Program Has Few Openings Left

On June 21 the Farmington Area YMCA Day Camp program will begin and there are still a few openings left.

Under the direction of Don Otto and a mature staff of counselors, boys and girls in the Farmington Area can have a camping experience to remember all year. The campsite is Kensington Park which offers beautiful surroundings for nature lore, hikes, cook-outs, swimming, crafts, sports, and many other activities. An overnight campsite is the highlight of each period and a first for many youngsters.

The Day Camp meets on 3 Volunteers Earn Citations

Louis J. Schuldt, director of community relations for the Hospital, said that during the year ending April 30, 430 volunteers recorded over 14,500 hours of volunteer services to the hospital.

Plan Big Art Exhibit At Farmington High

On Sunday afternoon, June 27, artists from this area will be exhibiting their talents at the Farmington High School on Shilwaukee. The show will be held outdoors from 1 to 7 p.m. and the art works will be hung on the cyclone fences surrounding the athletic field.

The artists themselves will be on hand throughout the show to answer questions and inquiries concerning the art pieces. Some 20 artists have registered thus far.

This is the second annual staging of this show and the event was held in August last year in the same area with great success. Some 26 area artists participated with approximately 130 paintings on display.

Several hundred people attended despite threatening weather and were pleased with the variety of styles and subjects available.

IT IS HOPED THAT various media will be displayed although most of the registrations thus far are in oil paintings. The majority of the items will be on sale and will be moderately priced as the participating artists are predominantly non-professional and do their painting for leisure time activity.

Mrs. Alice Nichols, show chairman, and Farmington Adult Education oil painting instructor, is very pleased that many of her beginning students are exhibiting as well as more experienced persons.

There is still time to register for the show prior to June 14. Anyone interested, may call Mrs. Nichols at GR. 6-3879 to receive registration forms.

If the weather is inclement the show will be postponed until Sunday, July 11, during the same hours.
