Considering Storage Bldg.

A portable steel storage building is now being considered by the township at the Town Hall site in which to store various pieces of equipment until the building and site committee can come up with recommendations on a permanent type building. Supervisor Curt Hall reported at Monday night's regular board meeting, June 14, that he had received the price from one company for an 8 foot by 16 building. He estimated that the building would cost approximately $550 and that a cement slab on which to place it at the rear corner of the Town Hall property would run another $150 to $200. Hall pointed out that the building was needed badly.

Two Local Boys Arizona Bound

Arizona bound and keeping mighty busy the last few days—collecting sleeping bags, cowboy boots, first aid material and other equipment—are two Farmington boys, Kevin Blake, 14, son of the George Blakes of Newell Circle, and John Davenport, 11, son of the Merle Davenports of Davis Lane. Along with other "cowpokes" from the Farmington, Birmingham area and the leave today via American Airlines astrojet for Hidden Valley Ranch near Prescott, Arizona. They will go by motor caravan and pack to remote corners of Colorado and Utah. They plan to pitch camp on the floor of the Grand Canyon where the Havasupai Indians still live very much as they did centuries ago.

There is only one building in the canyon—a motel for hikers which was built with materials flown in by helicopter. Over the July 4 weekend, all the ranchers attend the Big Rodeo in Prescott; and of course, the boys will be there too.

The boys will be back home in July.

Local Sailor Sees Festival

Quartermaster Third Class Robert Thomas Wedge Jr., USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert T. Wedge of 20777 Randall Avenue in Farmington, recently participated in Portland, Oregon's annual "Rose Festival" while serving aboard the destroyer USS Marshall, which operates out of Tacoma, Wash. His ship, along with other U.S. Navy ships, were open to the public for general visiting and understanding of living and working conditions aboard a U.S. fighting ship. The festival, which dates back to 1907, is a week-long community celebration and includes several parades, a ski tournament on nearby Mount Hood, automobile races, the crowning of a queen and a "Queen's Ball."

This Is Kimberley

BY VERA B. KERASTAS 474-3237

Just as April showers bring May flowers, June sprouts brides and graduates, some popping up in Kimberley. Susan Lynn Parkinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Parkinson of Wicklow Court, graduated May 1 from the University of Michigan with a degree from the college of education and a major in science, a 3.0 average and on the Dean's honor list. Susan is now at Ann Arbor working on the first half of her master's degree. Wanting to be near her fiancé, she has accepted a teaching contract in El Monte, California for junior high in the fall. The family will drop her off there in August and then continue on a business trip through California and to Hawaii. Next summer Susan plans to finish her master's degree.

Another graduate is Karen Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oils Johnson of Middle Road. Obtaining her B.A. degree in education from Marquette University in Milwaukee, Wis., Karen plans to teach this fall. On June 26, Karen will be married to Arthur John Panke, Jr. of Milwaukee at St. Fabian Church in Farmington. Her sister-in-law will be one of the bridesmaids and her niece and nephew will have the traditional roles of flower girl and ring bearer. Following the reception at Plum Hollow Country Club, the couple will honeymoon in the East before going to Milwaukee.

SEVEN YEARS of night school is an arduous way to obtain a degree, especially being a husband and father. However, Claude McCammon of Westmeath persevered to obtain his doctorate in law from Wayne State University this spring.

Sixth graders at Beechview School had moving-up dinner ceremonies Tuesday evening, June 15. A potluck dinner was served by gracious fifth grade mothers. All the pupils were introduced by their respective teachers and the safety awards and pupil librarian recognitions were presented. The farewell comments to the 81 sixth graders and their parents were given by principal K. C. Lachman.

GIRL SCOUT Troop 430, for junior girls in the 4-5-6th grades, had a busy day planned for them a few weeks ago by Jean Wheeler, their leader, and co-leader, Alice Francis. The girls' interest in citizenship was aroused when fellow scout, Suzanne Boles' parents were preparing to become citizens. It was arranged for them to attend the very impressive naturalization ceremonies at the Federal Building in Detroit. The presiding judge, happy to see them, stated that in all his years in office, he has never had a juvenile record of an active scout, boy or girl. The girls then promenade across Ambassador Bridge and rode in a Windsor bus through the tunnel, and capped off the day by visiting the International Institute where they learned three folk dances.

The proud winner of the Kiwanis Club essay contest for Beechview School is Kris Wheeler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wheeler of Westmeath. Her family will benefit from her reward since the prize is a year's membership in the "Y".

In Active Duty Navy Program

Airman Apprentice Mayon J. Hoard, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mayon H. Hoard of 22437 Floral of Farmington, recently completed 28 days of intensive training in the recruit phase of the Navy's "Four to Ten-Month" active duty program at the Naval Air Reserve Training Unit, Memphis, Tenn. He is being ordered to one of the technical schools at the Naval Air Technical Training Center, also at Memphis.

Here, he will gain the skills of the service trade or profession for which he is most qualified. His period of active duty depends upon the length of the school program he enrolls in. Upon completion of his active duty, he will return to the Naval Air Reserve and spend one weekend each month with a Naval Air Reserve squadron assigned to the Naval Air Reserve facility closest to his home.
