Women Drivers' Unit Gets YW Sponsorship

Metropolitan area YWCAs, including the Northwest branch in Redford Township and the Oakland branch in Clawson, have announced a working agreement with Motress Aid. The Detroit area YWCA branches have pioneered many of the adult educational programs now popular across the country, and were among the first to offer the well known powder puff mechanics course. Offering tips and practical experience in preventive auto maintenance, the course was started in the Detroit area more than eight years ago. Motress Aid recently participated in Y luncheon programs and presentations including such topics as "How to Buy a Used Car," "How to Park Defensively," and "Self Protection - In and Out of Your Car." MA also has made a vacation checklist and other materials available to YWCA members, added Miss Shaw.
