

Franklin B.S. Troop B-11 Elects Scout Comm. Officers

Boy Scout Troop B-11 of Franklin, sponsored by the Franklin Community Association, announces the election of Dr. Duane B. Larkins, as Chairman of the Scout Committee.

Assistant Chairman of the Committee is John Harms. The secretary continues to be Bert Coburn and the treasurer continues to be George Altmanberger. Representing the committee in terms of advancement of the young people is Mr. Robert Winkler.

These new officers succeeded a team headed by Mr. Tye Barrett who was last year's chairman of the troop committee.

A minor distinction is the fact that Troop B-11 has more staff leadership than at any time in its history. Scoutmaster of the troop is Harold DeOliver. There are four assistant Scoutmasters: Don Tracy, Norman Knicker, William Bunnell and Harold Dillow.

John Rumsey is acting as Scoutmaster for the explorer scouts of Troop B-11.

The Troop meets at the Franklin Community Church.

Three Named to All-Conference Team

Three members of the Farmington Falcon football team won berths on the Inter-Lakes All-Conference football team this year. Named to the league first team were, left to right, Dave Catherman, halfback, Frank Clappison, end, and Ken Nikkila, guard.

The runner-up Falcons placed only one less than the conference champions, Southfield, who had four named to the first team.

Honorable mention was also given to Tom Grimshaw, halfback, Jack Lawing, guard, and Al LeSage, quarterback.

All three given honorable mention as well as Clappison are juniors this year and will be back next season to form a strong nucleus around which to mold a new team.

There will be a J.V. wrestling squad at F.H.S. this year, according to Coach Freed. Because of the good turnout there will be a better chance for all the wrestlers to participate in at least one meet.

Bel-Air Hills News Tidbits

MRS. H. ALLEN GR. 4-6141

Approximately 130 couples attended the third annual Bel-Air Ball at the American Legion Hall sponsored by Bel-Air Hills Civic Association.

Kenneth Trombley, president of the Bel-Air Hills Civic Association, acknowledged his gratitude to all the Farmington merchants who contributed prizes and their co-operation and help with the advertising of the dance program, and also the ladies who helped in the selling of the tickets among them being Joan Stover, Sherry Hill, Verna Brotherton, Betsy Shires and Marion Dale.

Prizes were won by: Rose Whitten, ten gallons of gasoline donated by Bel-Air Shell Service; Norma Brilinger, one haircut donated by Vee the Barber on Orchard Lake Road; Mac Crosby, a chocolate cake donated by the Farmington Bakery; Robert Johnson, a music album teddy bear donated by Mac's; 5 cents to $5.00 store; Bill Cort, a coffee carafe donated by Ace Hardware; Depot; Mary Layton, a pretty doll donated by the Bel-Air 5 cents and 10 cents store; Dave Brundage, a baby blanket donated by Piccadilly in the Farmington Plaza; Gordon Peterson, a knife sharpener donated by the president of the Bel-Air Hills Civic Association; Frank Gakay, a knife sharpener; E.A. Savelly, chicken and rooster whatnots donated by the Bel-Air Gift Nook; and Jerry Gynae, an 8x10 portrait donated by the Bel Crest Studio.

The guests at the dance signed a get well card which was to be sent to Tom Sullivan. Tom was transferred last week to the William Beaumont Hospital in Royal Oak.

David Edmonds of Beacon Drive broke a bone in his hand while playing football in school and now has it in a splint. It was not until David complained to his parents that his hand was hurt and it was hard to write that the broken bone was discovered and David was taken to a doctor for an examination and the splint.

Karen Lynn, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Wolf of Leelanau Road was baptized on Sunday, November 10 at the First Presbyterian Church of Farmington.

Michael Jenkins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Jenkins of Marblehead celebrated his fourth birthday on Saturday, November 9, with a party. The little guests enjoyed a lunch of hot dogs, ice cream and birthday cake and were given individual candy dishes, horns and hats and enjoyed playing games together. The guests were Annemarie and Gladys Stover, Greg Horan, Michael Martin, Patty York, Karen Glavin, Marjorie Hatfield and Robbie Crain.

Local Art Work
On Exhibition

Two Farmington residents have works on display at the 48th annual Michigan Artists Exhibition which opened Tuesday at the Detroit Institute of Arts and will continue through December 22.

Sam Cashman of 21725 Rensselaire will have a walnut sculpture, "A Clasp of Hands", on display and Shirley Davidson of 32081 Marblehead a work in the mixed medium division entitled "Canal Scene."

A total of 32 prizes worth $4,500 will be presented.

The exhibition opened with dinner at 5:30 p.m. for exhibiting artists and a public reception for the artists and their guests.

The show will consist of paintings, watercolors, pastels, drawings, etchings, lithographs, woodblock prints, sculpture and photographs. Jurors were Gordon McIntosh (Smith, Director of the Albright Gallery, Buffalo, and Joe Jones, nationally known artist.

Of 2,010 entries, 228 were accepted for the exhibit which is always the most popular of the year at the Art Institute.

North Plaza Yule Fair Planning Continues

Packages of various shapes and sizes are arriving for the annual resale shop of the North Plaza Yule Fair of the North Congregational Church. Each year this shop falls heir to antiques from members who are moving from their present residences into ranch houses or smaller quarters. Many of the attic possessions are brought down and given to the Women's Association of the North Congregational Church to sell at their Annual Bazaar.

Mr. William Langley of Alyce-kay is home on leave from the United States Army. He is leaving for Germany the first part of December.

Dorothy Orofino spent the past week-end in New York with her girl friend.

Cage Practice Delayed at C.H.S.

Basketball enthusiasts at Clarencville High School will begin practice tomorrow evening for the Varsity basketball team. Coach Lee Kempf has waited until after the final football game, a postponement of the Northville-Clarencville contest, November 20, before starting training.

Forty-eight men are trying out for the squad. Included among them are four lettermen: Larry Andrews, Cliff Wellman, Tom Wilson and Fred Campbell.

Coach Kempf has indicated that sophomores will have a good chance to make the varsity squad this year due to the few returning lettermen.

Clarencville opens the basketball season at home, December 6, against Milford. The contest is a conference game.

Varsity Club Plans Projects

Twenty-six members of the P.H.S. Varsity Club met November 13 to discuss money-making ideas for the year. This meeting was the first one held under their new membership program.

Mr. John K. Cotton, sponsor, is promoting the project of purchasing a popcorn machine.

Activities of the club include selling at a basketball game and a social activity which has not yet been determined.

The Varsity Club also has charge of the three-game Christmas tournament, December 26, 27, and 28.

The next meeting will be open to recently contacted letter winners who have been asked to join.

Forty Basketball Hopefuls Now Working Out at Farmington High

Approximately 40 players turned out for the first basketball practice at P.H.S. which opened last week Coach Barth stated.

Dave Catherman, forward guard, is the only returning letterman this year.

Among other seniors returning this year are Horace Walters, center; Martin Song, forward guard; and Dewey Nichols, guard.

Ed Fulton, forward guard, was elected captain by last year's varsity squad, directly after the '56-'57 season.

The Varsity and J. V. were chosen in the early part of the week, but the names were received too late for publication.

Farmington plays its first game of the '57-'58 basketball season, Tuesday evening, December 3, at Wayne.

Coaches Get Dunking

Five dripping, soaked-to-the-skin, images emerged from the shower room Friday, November 8, following the Falcon victory over the Trojans.

The two coaches, Mr. Jack Hayes and Mr. Douglas Race, and managers Wayne Crawford, Charles Vetter, and George Carter had to leave F. H. S. with sneezes and shivers.

Bowling enthusiasts at F.H.S. met Tuesday afternoon, November 19, to choose teams and captains. There have been three previous meetings at the Farmington Lanes to determine averages. The teams will be picked by Mr. Donald Miotto, and members will be evenly placed on teams.

A POINTER in guarding is given to Dave Catherman by Coach Bob Barth as basketball practice swings into high gear at Farmington High. Harvey Chapman has possession of the ball. Looking on at Barth's left is Al LeSage and at his right is Ed Fulton. These four boys are tentatively being groomed to hold down positions on the varsity. All outsiders are still open to them showing the most potential and promise. However, Coach Barth indicated last week.
