

Schoolcraft College Offers Recreation

A Sunday health club for individuals and families, athletic department. Those interested in the fall schedule should contact the community services office on the campus of Schoolcraft College, 18600 Haggerty, Livonia. The health club will be open Sundays from noon to 3 p.m. beginning Sept. 9.

Yearly memberships are $25 for individuals and $40 for families. Guests may attend with members for $1 per visit.

Health club members will have full use of Schoolcraft's physical education building, which is considered by many to be the finest of its kind in the nation.

Activities include handball, paddleball, swimming, gymnastics, diving, volleyball, basketball, badminton, jogging, weightlifting exercises, ping pong, individual work-outs and sauna baths.

Members will furnish their own lockers and gym clothing. Children under 12 must be accompanied by a parent or guardian and small children must be toilet-trained before using the pool.

Memberships are limited and on a first-come basis. Additional information is available from the community services office.

The bicycling class will be from 5-7 p.m. on Wednesdays beginning Sept. 12. A $10 fee covers six sessions which cover "selecting a bike" to competition training. Maintenance, safety and techniques will also be covered. The class is for 12-year-olds and up who can already ride and have their own bikes.

The basic sailing class will meet from 9-12 Saturday mornings for six weeks beginning Sept. 8. It will be limited to 10 students, and the ability to swim is required.

The first class will meet on campus. After that, actual sailing will be held on Kent Lake. Basic sailboat handling techniques, safety boat selection and other topics will be covered. Tuition is $5.50 and $11 for in-district and out-of-district students, respectively, and each will pay a $12 laboratory fee.

Casting Call

The Theater Guild of Livonia - Redford will have open casting for "Butterflies Are Free" on Sunday, Aug. 19 and Monday, Aug. 20 at 7:30 p.m. in the guild's building, 15138 Beech Dale, Redford.

Old Fashion Fun Slated For Fair

DETROIT Michigan State Fair time is right around the corner and there are countless forms of entertainment bound to please anyone who spends a day.

Opening noon Thursday, Aug. 23, and running through Labor Day, Monday, Sept. 3, this year's fair offers several new events plus many of the old favorites.

New this year is Festival of Foods which will feature demonstrations and consumer tips from food experts.

"Sure to be a favorite is the 'Around the World in 80 Days' style ascension balloon. Operated by David Claggett, an aeronaut, the balloon will be tethered to a 70-foot rope. It will be in operation daily, weather and wind conditions permitting.

Good old-fashioned country style fair activities will be held throughout this year's fair.

The National Heavyweight Draft Horse Championship will be on an as yet undetermined date. Horses weighing more than a ton will strain against a giant weight for $500 prize money.

A special preview of the art show will be Aug. 22 from 7 to 9 p.m. It will feature professional and amateur displays of their paintings, prints, drawings, photography, ceramics, and weaving.

Meadow Brook Ready; Stage Season Set

ROCHESTER A colorful season of eight plays ranging from musical comedy to Greek tragedy is being planned for the Meadow Brook stage next year. Works by Tennessee Williams, Agatha Christie, Carson McCullers and William Shakespeare are included in the eight theater season at Meadow Brook.

Terrence Kilburn, artistic director, said, "This season marks several steps forward in the projected life of the Meadow Brook Theater. We are presenting the Detroit premiere of a London comedy hit, 'How the Other Half Loves.' Also for the first time, we are staging one of the world's truly great Greek tragedies, 'Oedipus Rex,' in the premiere performance of a new adaptation."

The 1973-74 season also marks the return of a Shakespearean production, after four years, and by popular demand, the first murder mystery ever seen on the Meadow Brook stage.

The season will open in October with Carson McCuller's prize-winning play, "The Member of the Wedding."

This heartwarming comedy portrays a crucial summer in the life of an adolescent girl. "A Streetcar Named Desire" by Tennessee Williams will be staged in November.

The holiday production will mark the Detroit premiere of Alan Ayckbourn's comedy, "How the Other Half Loves."

An imaginative tongue-in-cheek comedy of errors, it enjoyed a two-year run in London.

"Oedipus Rex" will be brought to the Meadow Brook stage in January. February will offer a change of pace, with the staging of Edgar Lee Masters' "Spoon River." This depicts a series of portraits of small town life, interwoven with haunting American folk music.

Shakespeare's delightful romantic comedy, "As You Like It," will be presented in March. The mystery will be Agatha Christie's "Ten Little Indians."

It will be seen in April. "I Do! I Do!" by Tom Jones and Harvey Schmidt will conclude the season.

Negotiations are under way to bring some exciting new names to the Meadow Brook stage, as well as to bring back some of the outstanding actors who helped set attendance and sales records this year.

U-M Program Has Musicals

ANN ARBOR Four Broadway musicals will open the new season Nov. 17 and 18 (Saturday and Sunday). All shows will have matinee and evening performances.

The Obie Award-winning "best musical" and current Tony Award nominee, "Don't Bother Me, I Can't Cope" follows on the bill with performances Dec. 8 and 9.

One of the most delightful shows to have played on Broadway in the past 10 years, "No, No, Nanette," revives the musical hit of 1925. This Tony Award winner comes to Ann Arbor Dec. 15 and 16.

Neil Simon's comedy, "The Prisoner of Second Avenue,"
