Eugene J. Ellison, chairman of the Authority, stated that the policy decision of the HCMA Board of Commissioners to adopt a parking charge as a major source of revenue has been made only after careful analysis.

3 Colleges Get $14.7 Million

Three local community colleges will receive nearly $14.7 million of the $65.9 million in state appropriations to Michigan's two year colleges.

Gov. Milliken has signed the community college appropriation bill which allocates $65.9 million to 29 community and junior colleges. This compares to appropriations totaling $36.5 million last year.

Oakland Community College will receive $6.5 million, Wayne County Community College, $5.4 million, and Schoolcraft College $2.8 million.

Michigan state parks and recreation areas have had an annual user permit or daily fee for several years, but this is the first general fee ever assessed HCMA metropark users with the exception of Metropolitan Beach near Mt. Clemens.

Metropolitan Beach, with a wide variety of recreational facilities and a special event program, has had a parking charge throughout its 22-year operation. The current $6-cent parking fee, now collected from May 5 through Sept. 30, is used to help defray the costs of operation and maintenance at Metropolitan Beach.

Representatives on the seven-member HCMA Board of Commissioners include these county representatives: Wayne — William E. Freger; Macomb — Thomas S. Welsh; Oakland and Livingston — Clifton W. Heller; and Washtenaw — Jesse A. Rutherford; and two governor appointees — Eugene J. Ellison, of St. Clair Shores, and Kurt R. Keydel, of Detroit.

Gifted Students Get Help

The special academic problems of gifted children in Michigan will be eased with the help of an appropriation included in the recently-passed state school aid bill by the Senate Appropriations Committee, according to committee member Carl D. Pursell (R-Plymouth).

The bill will allow school districts to receive up to $150,000 in state funds for evaluating existing programs or experimenting with new ones for the instruction of gifted children.

"Most schools are not even equipped to recognize these highly intelligent and talented young people," said Pursell.

"In instances where these children are spotted, schools are often not prepared to provide them proper instruction to challenge their potential."

"As a result we have a tragedy of all this unharmed potential virtually going to waste."

How Madonna Can Help Older Students

Madonna College, Livonia, is making it easier for adults as well as younger students to earn college degrees; 51.7 per cent of Madonna's 1972 graduates were in the 23 to 52 years age bracket. Most attended part-time and most were employed.

Madonna, at 36600 Schoolcraft, is a coeducational, four year college operated by the Felician Catholic order.

Madonna believes that higher education should be available to a person throughout his lifetime and not just immediately after high school. The college welcomes all persons who wish to study part-time or return to study later in life.

An adult need not attend the college for four years to earn a bachelor's degree. The college grants up to two years "credit by examination."

Like many other colleges, Madonna will admit anyone who can benefit from continuing education; it isn't even necessary to be a high school graduate. However, students must show that they are capable of doing the work by passing a high school equivalency examination.

Among students at Madonna are policemen, housewives, veterans, nurses, civil service employees, management and supervisory personnel from business and industry, and personnel from allied health occupations who are pursuing a degree program appropriate to their lifetime interests.

Students may earn a certificate of achievement (30 semester hours) in a specialized program. Associate degree requirements include a minimum of 60 semester hours, with a minimum of 30 hours in a major field of study. To win a bachelor degree, a student must earn 120 semester hours with 30-52 of these hours in a major field of study.

Pre-registration counseling is designed to maximize the individual's academic achievement and satisfaction.
